QUIPS AND CRANKS-1923

FOREWORD

THE Editors of this volume have tried to truly picturize life at Davidson, but the greatest thing at our Alma Mater cannot be pictured. Namely: the "spirit" that is instilled into one from the time he first arrives, until he leaves, and the thing that makes an upright Christian gentleman out of every Davidson man. To us the making of this book has been a big undertaking, and we hope that our critics will agree with Samuel Johnson that "To have attempted much is always laudable even when the enterprise is above the strength that undertakes it."

Contributors Column

In every organization there are those beings, unknown and unsung, who are vital parts to its life. It is justice that they should at least be mentioned, thus we pay homage to our contributors:

To O. K. Allison, that master typist, we are much indebted; he sat into the wee small hours, his nimble fingers running tirelessly and swiftly over the keys, turning out countless pages for the printers.

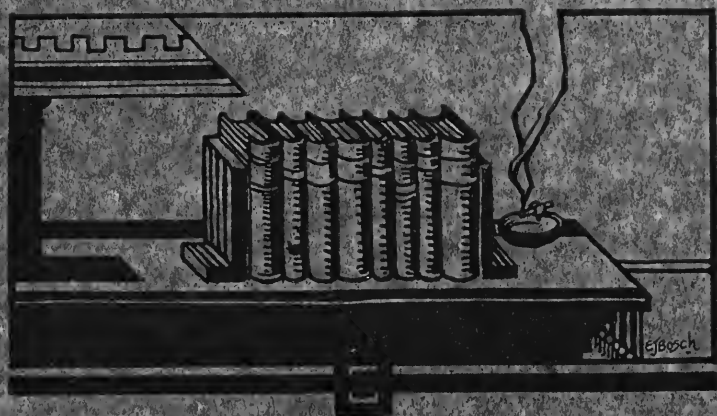

Bill Cooper invented a history; at least the Senior Class has one, and we know that Bill is the author. Speaking of histories, W. E. Milton, '26, and Joe Earnest, '25, are makers of history. Upon a moment's notice they completed a history of their respective classes.

Harry Russell, '23; W. F. Gallaway, '24; Wallace Purdy and J. M. Williams, '25, were the lads who seduced the shy muses; in short, they are our poets.

We are indebted to E. J. Bosch for the attractive tail pieces; to J. L. Green and J. A. Lake for painstaking composing, and to J. B. Bryan, painter of our invocation.

And lastly, we want to thank Dr. J. M. Douglass, faculty adviser, for his invaluable assistance.

ROBERT MARION BRICE

"Marion"

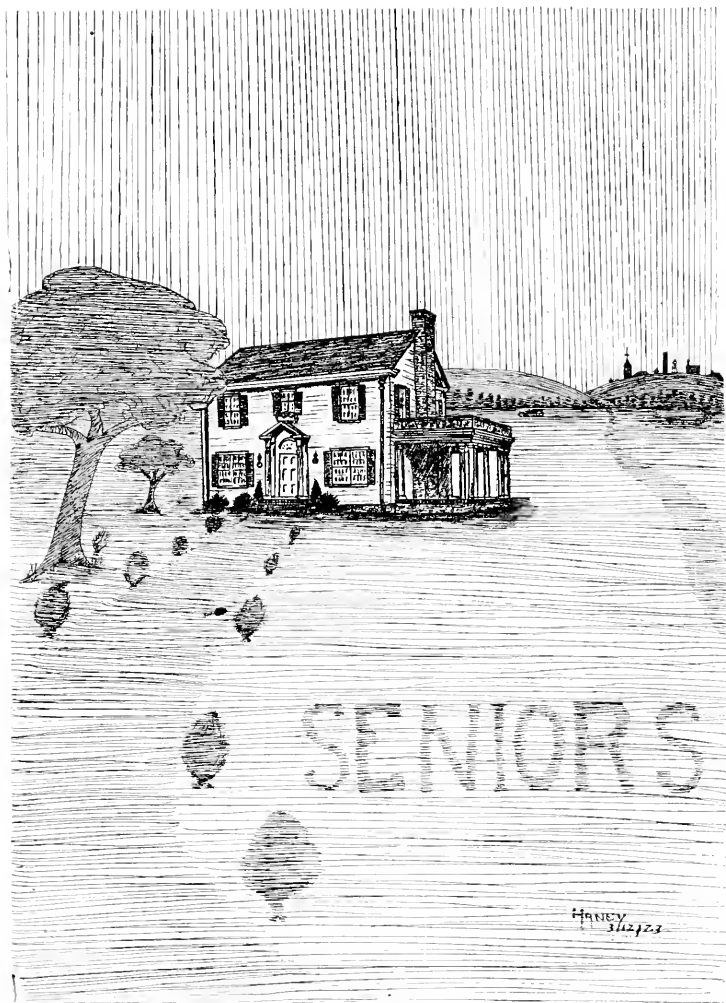

MARION JUNCTION, ALA.

*"Come one, come all! this rock shall fly
From this firm base as soon as I."*

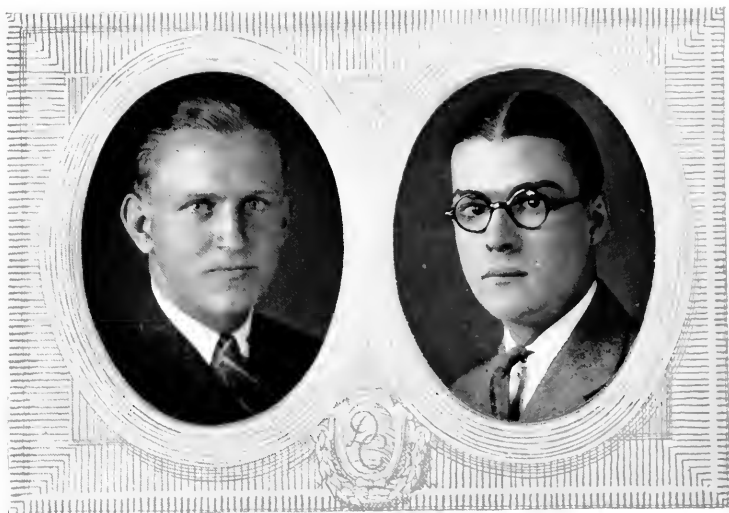

Kappa Alpha; Sigma Pi Sigma; Company Football; Scrub Football, '19, '20; Varsity Football, '20, '21; Varsity Baseball, '22, '23; Chairman Vigilance Committee; Class Track, '20, '21; Honor Roll; Golf Team; "D" Club.

An honor roll man, a member of the "D" Club—in fact, a combination of athletic and mental ability that is rarely found. Marion has been with us gleanng knowledge for an M.A. degree and is completing his fifth year this spring. His powers on the gridiron, on the baseball diamond, and in the class room will be greatly missed by old Davidson in coming years.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

JOHN McLAUGHLIN ADAMS

B. S.

"Johnny"

"A face with gladness overspread Soft smiles, by human kindness bred."

K. A. Scrub Football (2 years); Secretary and Treasurer Freshman Class; Manager Basketball; Vigilance Committee; Glee Club (3 years); D Club; 1st Lieut. R. O. T. C.

One of the handsomest men in his class, Johnny has been quite the Beau Brummel of '23. However, his marked successes with the fairer sex have by no means outclassed his other capabilities. As a promising Ponzi he bids fair to fame in managing "The Poison Squad" during the past basketball season. Beloved by all his fellow students only strengthens the fact that Johnny's absence will be greatly noticed after the sheepskins are paraded out.

ROBERT C. AIKEN

"Windy"

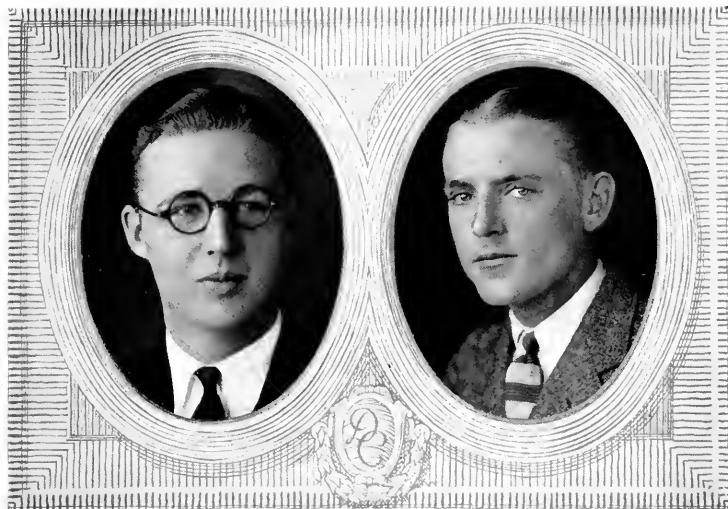

LAURENS, S. C.

"A college joke to cure the dumps."

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Davidsonian Staff; Manager Dramatic Club; Wearer of Golden Quill.

How a man so steady with his text-books, and the ladies, should acquire the nickname "Windy" is hard to understand. Perhaps it is because "Windy" can change his energies from one thing to another and do everything equally well. "Windy" started out with the class of '22, but decided to leave and try Cornell for a while. On a visit to his old classmates he discovered the class of '23, and he immediately decided to stay with us. Whatever he attempts he does well, and that means success.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

RALPH PARK ALEXANDER

A. B. H.

"Sporty"

GREENVILLE, S. C.

"Silence is more eloquent than words."

Class Basketball; Class Football; Scrub Football; El Centro Espanol.

South Carolina sent us "Sporty." Now after a lapse of four years we return their trust—a man typical of the nickname he has so rightly earned. He has few faults, and they are overcapped by his genial good fellowship, a radiant smile and a pleasant word that are ever present. We hate to part with "Sporty," but in so doing we are rendering the world at large a noble and unselfish service. Our eyes will follow him in all his undertakings.

HUGH ALVIN BAILEY

A. B. H.

"Snag"

CHESTER, S. C.

"I shall always consider the best guesser the best prophet."

Aesculapian Club; Senior Friendship Council; South Carolina Club.

Ah! The Duke of Chester appears with that ever-questioning smile upon his face. For four lengthy years he has reigned "Snag" supreme in our midst. And now that the time of parting is at hand we reluctantly give up this lad for South Carolina's betterment. Luck to you, "Snag," the throttle is in your hands.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

JOSEPH WILLIAM BALDWIN

B. S.

"Joe"

CLARKTON, N. C.

"Thinking that nothing was done if anything remained to do."

Delta Theta Chi; Gavel and Forum; Aesculapian Club; Secretary, Second Critic, First Critic, Vice-President, Phi Society; Commencement Marshall, '22; Class Football, '21; Inter-Society Junior-Senior Debater; Junior Orator's Rep; Senior Orator's Rep; Senior Class Day Orator; President Phi Society.

To Clarkton we are indebted for "Joe," who during his years with us has proven of high worth in his various literary pursuits. Hard working and ever on the lookout for new fields of endeavor, this likeable member of '23 has our good wishes to follow him. In "Joe" we see the South's leading orator of the future.

JULIUS McCANN BARR

A. B. H.

"Julius"

GREENVILLE, S. C.

"So upright Christians please both man and God."

Delta Theta Chi.

This "Julius" has yet to meet his Brutus. He's a man of few words, yet one that has endeared himself to all his fellow students. Just a quiet, unassuming young man, devoting most of his time to books and private bull sessions. With his perseverance he should be high in worldly affairs before many years, and he leaves us with the hearty support and good will of his associates.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

JAMES DOUGLASS BERNHARDT

B. S.

"Dug"

LENOIR, N. C.

"Stubborn labor conquers everything."

Kappa Sigma; Vice-President, First Critic, and President of Metrophilian Literary Society; Council of Y. M. C. A. Board of Control; Glee Club, '20-'21, '21-'22; Dramatic Club, '20; Assistant in Law; Captain R. O. T. C.

From the rugged mountains of Lenoir "Dug" ambled into camp and started off his career as a member of the Class of '23. Inclined to quietness and huge black stogy cigars on all occasions, he typifies an American mountaineer, or is it "Millett's Thinker?" to the 7th degree. On our bi-monthly R. O. T. C. news "watch your step," this gallant young man receives constant attention—merits or demerits. A brigandier some day? Well! who can tell?

DAVID WALKER BETHEA

B. S.

"Dave"

DILLON, S. C.

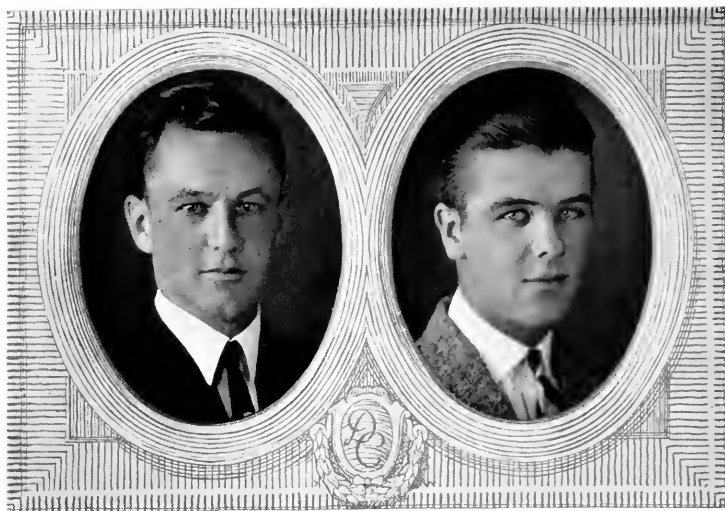

"Wisdom is the conqueror of fortune."

Pandemic Literary Society; South Carolina Club; 1st Sgt. R. O. T. C., 2nd Lieut. R. O. T. C.

To Dillon we owe thanks for this good-natured, whole-hearted fellow, who has made for himself a friend of every man on the campus. Never known to have exerted himself to the point of exhaustion, but still manages to get by, judging from the bang of his gun, as "Dave" proceeds to shoot 'em on class. The best wishes of the student body go with him as he steps out into life.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

PERRY HARVEY BIDDLE

A. B. H.

"P. H."

DeFuniak Springs, Fla.

"The greatest vicissitude of things amongst men is the vicissitude of sects and religions."

Masonic Club; En Society; Florida Club; Ministerial Band.

This noble representative of the far-famed 'Gator State came into our fold during the Fall of '21. Even in this short time we have become convinced of the fact that DeFuniak Springs is an harbor of rare gems. "P. H." has chosen as his life's work the ministry; in this he should be a tremendous success. Our best wishes go with him.

JEAN PATRICK BOOTH

A. B. H.

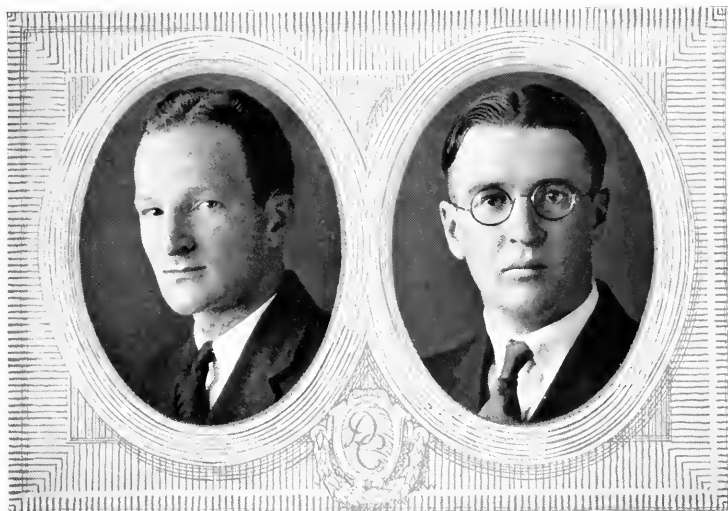

"Piccolo"

Warrenton, N. C.

"Where the stream runneth smooth the water is deepest."

Phi Alpha Pi; Assistant in Greek; R. O. T. C. Band (2 years); Ministerial Band; Phi Society.

Gaze upon our famous "Piccolo," who has become quite a celebrity through his ability to play soft and endearing notes upon his much-flaunted reed. An able successor to Peter Pan, seems to be the consensus of campus opinion. He has not, however, followed the realm of music to the detriment of other college activities. He is a student of no mean ability, and as an exponent of Greek, second to none. Keeping up his present studies, we expect to hear great things from him in the future.

JOSEPH MANOR BOSTICK

B. S.

"Twick"

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C.

"Oh, if to dance all night and dress all day charin'd small-pox or chased old age away."

Pi Kappa Alpha; Sgt. R. O. T. C.; Class Basketball, '21-'22-'23.

"Twick" by name and nature, late president of the D. C. Cue Ball Association. His greatest joy and constant delight is to indulge in the Tepischorean art on all occasions, be they sad or gay. Good natured, happy-go-lucky, and yet he is a student of recognized standing. If "Twick" capers along the stepping stones of life the way he has trickled through his years at Davidson, he will go up the stairs to fame in little time.

SAMUEL HUGH BRADLEY

A. B. H.

"Skinny"

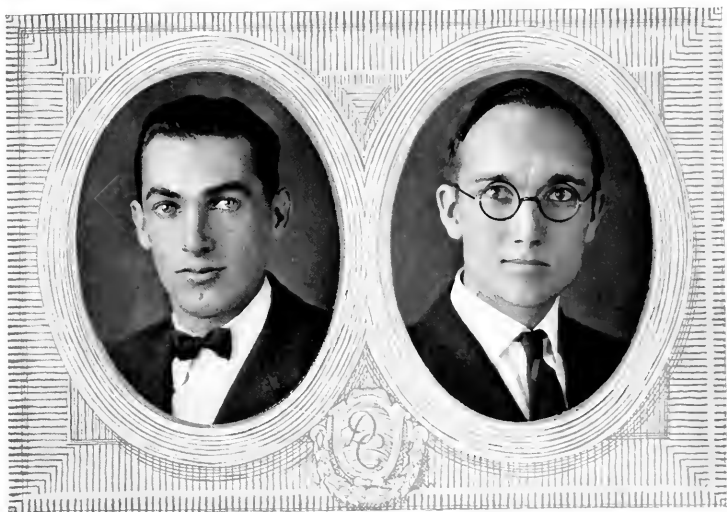

SCUMTER, S. C.

"Peace the off-spring of power."

"D" Club; Wearer of the "D"; Varsity Tennis (3 years); Assistants Club; Class Basketball (3 years); Class Football (2 years); Assistant in Bible; President N. C. I. T. A.; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Captain Tennis Team, '21-'22, '22-'23.

In "Hugh" we find a rare mixture of qualities. His jovial nature permeates all those about him. And when it comes to manning a tennis ball about the court, just leave it to Hugh and his trusted racquet to bring home the bacon. We will greatly miss his ready flow of wit and smiling countenance, but we realize with such tools to work with he has a future in store for him.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

ROBERT PARKER BROWN

"R. P."

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

"High erected thoughts seated in a heart of courtesy."

"R.P." can usually be found rambling around the campus whenever the weather permits, and whether it be bright or gloomy, he has a ready smile and a greeting for everyone he meets. His quietness and likability gather many a friend for him, and if he matures and increases his merits as he goes into life, we predict a wide circle of friends and success for him.

WILLIAM PAYNE BROWN

A. B. I.

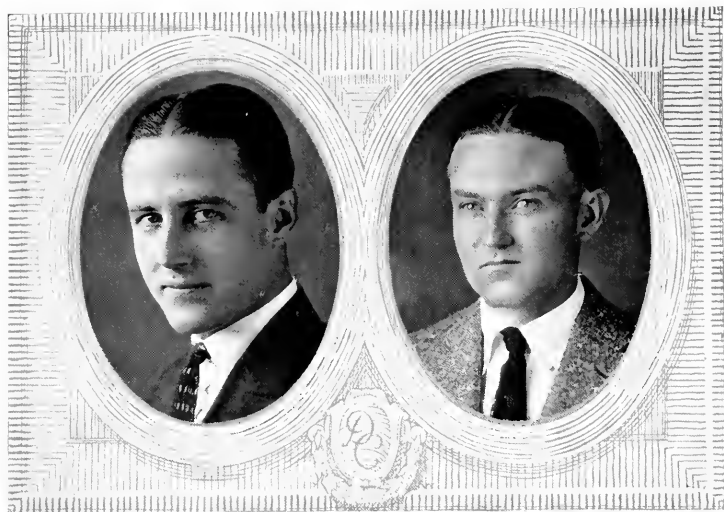

"Willie P."

CHINA GROVE, N. C.

"Speech is better than silence, Silence is better than speech."

Phi Beta Kappa; Delta Pi Kappa; Reporters' Club; Phi Society; President Reporters' Club; Junior-Senior Debater's Rep; Volunteer Band; Dramatic Club; Assistant in Math., '22.

W. P. doesn't run all to length, as most people would think upon seeing him, for besides loftiness of stature he is possessed with a nimble brain that has made the grade in all his courses, despite the fact that illness forced him to vacation a term during his Soph year in college. Made of the stuff that spells success in all undertakings.

WILLIAM STEWART BUCHANAN

B. S.

"Buck"

GIFT, JAPAN

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast."

Delta Theta Chi; Omicron Delta Kappa; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Sigma Upsilon; Le Cerele Francais; Band, '21, '22, '23; Director of Band, '23; Glee Club, '21, '22; Assistant in Biology, '21; Assistant in Chemistry, '22, '23; Assistant in French, '22; Assistant in Math., '23; Art Editor Quips and Cranks, '22; Editor-in-Chief, '23; Captain of Band, '23; Dramatic Club, '21, '22, '23; "Y" Quartet, '22.

Stewart possesses to a wonderful degree that ability which enables a man to do almost anything—and do it well. Some say his determined will accounts for this fact, while others ascribe it to his winning personality. "Buck" has the combined talents of an artist and a musician as well as a good student. There are great things in store for "Buck," and every good wish accompanies him as he goes forth from his Alma Mater.

LEROY PERRY BURNAY

A. B. H.

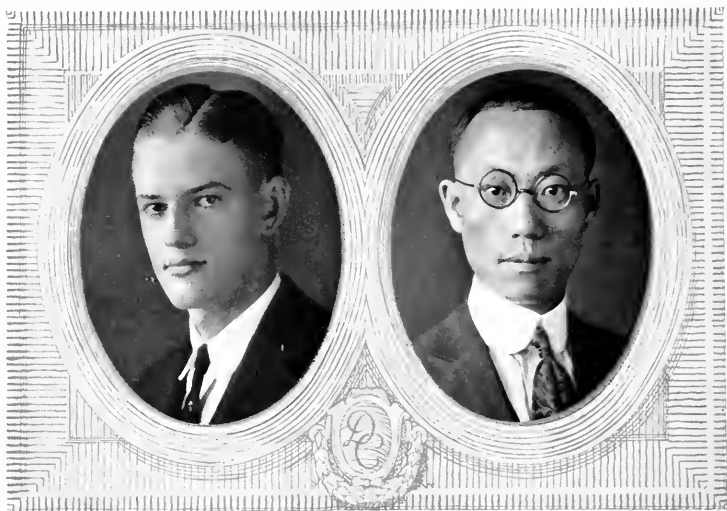

"Parson"

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Metrophilians; Polity Club; Gavel and Forum; Secretary and Vice-President Phi Society; Fresh-Soph Debater's Rep, '20; Fresh-Soph Debater's Medal, '21; Junior-Senior Debater's Medal, '22; Debating Council; Treasurer and President Metrophilians; 1st Sgt. R. O. T. C., Capt. R. O. T. C.; Assistant in Bible; Monitor; Respondent Metrophilian Society; Chief Marshall; First Critic, Metrophilian.

"Parson" typified the man who had sought after and conquered the highest attainments in life. An untiring worker in our literary world, a debater of note, as can be testified by a string of beaten opponents; and a scholar of the first water. Using R. O. T. C. as an avocation, he has spent four years wearing out O.D.'s for Uncle Sammy, which goes to prove that where there's a will there's a way. Parson's a captain now.

MALCOM PATTERSON CALHOUN

A. B. I.

"M. P."

LAURINBURG, N. C.

"All we ask is to be let alone."

Sigma Pi Sigma; Varsity Track Team;
Phi Society; "D" Club.

"M.P." is a lad peculiarly indescribable. To learn him is a task, which, while you are pursuing, you will find along the way that he holds in his innerself those ideals which count in this life. He is gifted with long legs, which have won the coveted "D" in track, through their aptitude in clearing the bar at lofty heights. We are expecting no small things of him in after life if he holds to the principles which he has adopted during his college days.

CHANG KAU CHIEN

"Tchtu"

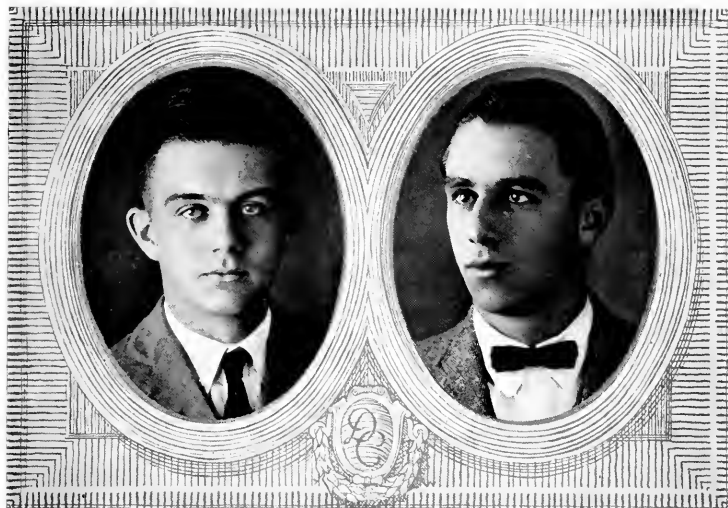

KOREA.

"One thing is forever good; that one thing is success."

Chien comes to us from across the ocean, and has probably had about as easy a time in understanding our language as most of us have in mastering Greek. His pleasant smile has made him liked by all over our campus. We wish him success as he continues his studies in this country, and when he returns to his own people to work among them.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

WILLIAM JAMES COOPER

B. S.
"Bill"

FOWLER, S. C.

"From labor there shall come forth rest."

Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Dramatic Club, '22; Eu Society; Reporters' Club; South Carolina Club; Salesman's Club; Winner N. C. C. P. A. award, '21; Editor in charge of Press Bureau, and Business Manager of Davidsonian; Fiction Editor (2 years) Magazine; Editor-in-Chief of Davidson College Magazine; Sgt. Maj., 2nd Lieut., and Maj. R. O. T. C.; Rural Sunday Schools (2 years); "Y." Cabinet; President South Carolina Club.

"Bill" has put in all told a sum total of labor that spells success. From Freshman days to his graduation "Bill" has been always busy. Busy about something and everything. No phase of college activities has but shared his able hand at work and leadership. Whether in literary lines, business enterprise, or as Major of the R. O. T. C. Battalion, you will find him on top and making good. Success marks your wake, old man, and we take the liberty here to say that you will not be a meagre success, but a huge one. Davidson owes you much, and the world owes you a fortune. Go get it.

KEITH CORNELIUS

B. S.
"Keith"

CORNELIUS, N. C.

"One day is passed on by another."

Keith hails from the neighboring town of Cornelius. He entered Davidson in the Fall of '19, and has made for himself a name in the scholastic circles of the school. Although he has not made the honor roll, his grades have been above the average. Keith is a quiet boy and is not known so well on the campus, but below that stolid reserve is what can be termed, A man. He is sure to heap laurels up for himself in whatever line of endeavor he takes up.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

CLIFFORD RANKIN CRAWFORD

A. B. II.

"Pat"

SUMTER, S. C.

"For he is honourable and doubling that most holy."

Bachelors Club; Eu Society; Omicron Delta Kappa; Secretary Y. M. C. A.; Wearer of the "D"; Secretary and Treasurer Athletic Association; Vice-President Soph Class; Manager Inter-Dormitory Basketball; Vice-President Student Body; Captain Soph Basketball; Manager of Fresh Basketball; All-Class Basketball, '21; "X" Cabinet; All-State Baseball, '21-'22; All-State Basketball, '22; Executive Committee of Athletic Association (3 years); Varsity Baseball (4 years); Varsity Basketball (3 years); Captain Varsity Basketball, '22; Captain Baseball Team, '23; Student Council, '23; President of Y. M. C. A.

The all-viewing scope rested when it came to Pat and depicts him one of the best "all round" men in college. As an athlete he has been unexcelled during his stay at Davidson and his Hibernian characteristics instill pep and determination into all during closely contested games. He has made the All-State teams in both Basketball and Baseball.

Aside from his athletic nature, Pat devotes a large part of his time to the functioning of the religious organs on the campus, being President of the Y. M. C. A., and teaching a Sunday School class composed of some of the younger boys in the town. He has heard the call and will answer it as lights a man.

NEIL ROSWELL CURRIE

A. B. II.

"Neil"

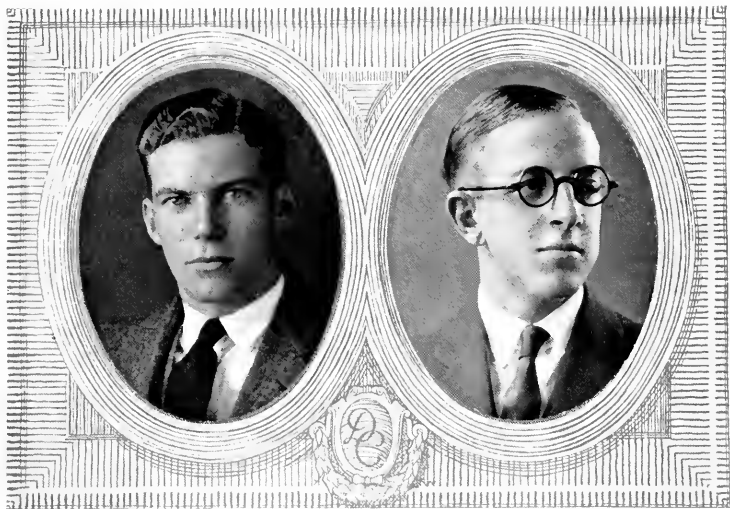

DEFUNIACK SPRINGS, FLA.

"Knowledge is more than equivalent to force."

Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Sigma Pi Sigma; Assistant in Physics; Assistant in Chemistry.

In our Junior year there came into our midst from Palmer College a truly go-getter. The class of '23 was glad to welcome him. He has proven himself quite a scientist, excelling both in Chemistry and Physics. We hazard the guess that he sends radio messages to "someone" in DeFuniack Springs. Besides radio and test tubes "Neil" dearly loves golf. When he is not in the Lab. he can always be found on the golf course. But be it golf or science, we predict for him a shining success.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

ROBERT FRANKLIN DAVIDSON

"Bob"

CHESTER, S. C.

"The fruit derived from labor is the sweetest of pleasures."

Beta Theta Pi; Phi Beta Kappa; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Mimir Society; "Y" Cabinet; Editor-in-Chief of Davidsonian; Honor Roll (3 years); Polity Club; Asst. Manager Football, '21; Davidsonian Reporters' Club, '20-'21; Staff, '21-'23; Vigilance Committee, '20-'22; Vice President Class, '21-'22; Pan Hellenic Council, '22-'23; Assistant in Political Science, '22-'23.

Dignified and unassuming, but with a perpetual smile which makes a friend of everyone he meets, Bob climbed steadily upward on the ladder of prominence. With four years on the Honor Roll, finishing as Valedictorian of the Class of '23, Bob holds a record seldom equaled by any student. But in the position of Editor-in-Chief of the Davidsonian he has served the college at the most difficult post on our campus, and the quality of the weekly publication has borne evidence of Bob's editorial ability and untiring energy. D. C. is loathe to part company with a man of the calibre of Bob Davidson, and we are hoping he'll decide to take an M. A. here. With the record which he carries it is superfluous to predict a brilliant future for this outstanding figure in the Class of '23.

JOHN HENRY DAVIS, JR.

B. S.

"Bevo"

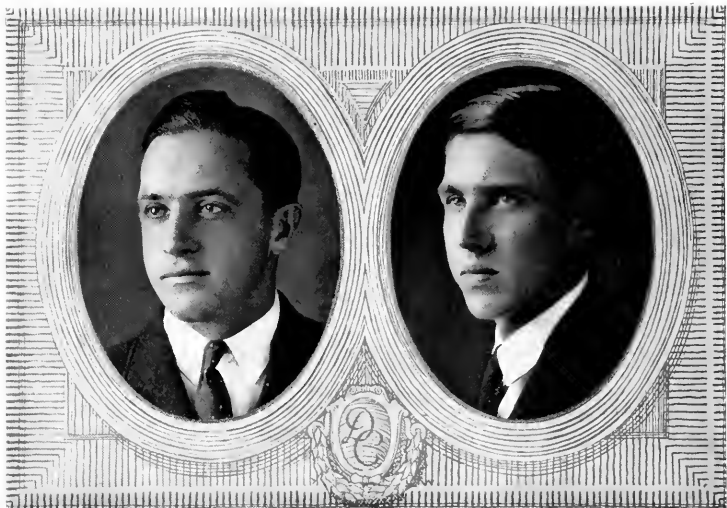

WAUCHULA, FLA.

"Each one to his own trade, then would the cows be well cared for."

Honor Roll; Secretary and Treasurer Polity Club; Pandemic Literary Society; Vigilance Committee; Wrestling Team; Assistant in Political Science and Botany; Florida Club; Salesman's Club.

Somewhere back in his earliest days on the campus John Henry gained the appellation of "Bevo" and it has stuck to the present day, though its origin is unknown. "Bevo" is popular because of the smile that won't come off, combined with a half-fellow well-met sort of friendliness. "Bevo" is never so much at home as when squinting through a microscope or cutting up a frog in "Bug" lab. No doubt of his ability as a student, for his name appears on the '22-'23 Honor Roll. Through a somewhat checkered college career—dropping out one semester and returning the next—"Bevo" has forged his way to the front. We look for Davis to carve himself a niche in the hall of fame along with Lamarck and Darwin, and we hope this will be done next year, as it is rumored that he is to return as an Assistant Professor in the Biological Department.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

SAMUEL MALLOY DAVIS

B. S.

"Sam"

St. Pauls, N. C.

"Philosophy becomes poetry and science imagination in the enthusiasm of leadership."

Kappa Sigma; Omicron Delta Kappa; "D" Club; Varsity Football (4 years); President Junior Class; President Student Body; Sgt. and Capt. R. O. T. C.; Coach Class Football, '19, '20, '21; Vigilance Committee, '20; Scrub Track, '21-'22.

"Sam" is one of the most popular men of his class, and one who will never be forgotten, once a person has met him, for he numbers his friends by his acquaintances. Kind, sincere, and commanding, he holds the respect of the whole student body, as is shown by his having been elected President of that body.

He is a four-year football letter man, and his great playing in the line will long be remembered in the annals of the college. A versatile man and a born leader, Sam is sure to succeed in any walk of life.

JAMES CLARENCE DEEVER

B. S.

"Monk"

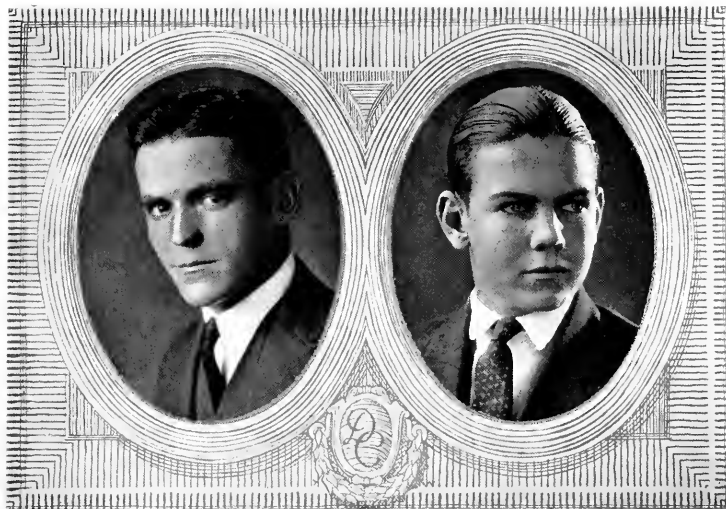

Perry, Fla.

"The rather since every man is the son of his own works."

Assistant in Accounting and Eco. II; Florida Club.

"Monk" has no facial resemblance to the animal after whom his affectionate classmates have named him. Of a somewhat reserved nature, Deaver probably has too many figures juggling about in his brain to think much of external happenings; for Accounting is J. C.'s hobby. In every course pertaining to business, "Monk" has become proficient; and with this equipment we predict a successful career for Deaver in the world of affairs. "Monk" has won his way into the hearts of all his class-mates and will leave a place hard to fill on Davidson's campus.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

LEONARD WHITE DICK

"Leonard"

HARTESVILLE, S. C.

"Character is higher than intellect; a great mind be strong to live, as well as to think."

Kappa Sigma; President of the Student Body, '22; Varsity Track, '20, '21, '23; Captain Varsity Track, '21; Varsity Football, '22; "D" Club; Wearer of the "D"; Vice-President of the Student Body, '20-'21; Student Council; President Board of Control.

It success comes as a result of persistent hard work, "Leonard" certainly will make a howling success. Coming to Davidson from Clemson, by sheer ability and leadership, he made himself one of the big men of this class, and at the end of his Junior year he was elected President of the Student Body. Although he was prevented from returning to fill this office and graduate with the class of '22, he overcame circumstances and returned to finish this year, and the class of '23 is proud to number him as one of its members. He has done many things for old Davidson during his sojourn here, and has demonstrated to the student body that precious parcels come in small packages. In the years to come we expect to see his name go down as one of the world's great little men, along with that of Gambetta, Napoleon and others.

WILLIAM TALLY ELLIOTT

A. B. H.

"Tally"

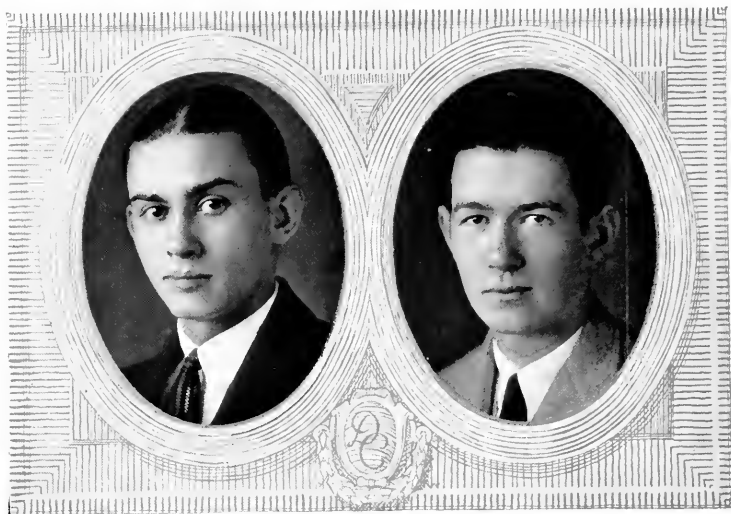

COLUMBIA, S. C.

"For 'tis the mind that makes the body rich."

Kappa Alpha; Eumenae Society; Reporters' Club; Delta Pi Kappa; Le Cerele Francois; President Eta Society; Student Council; Assistant Baseball Manager, '22; Manager Baseball, '23; President Le Cerele Francois; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Wearer of the "D"; "D" Club; Davidsonian Staff; Assistant in French, English and Astronomy; Secretary and Treasurer Class; Class Basketball; Class Baseball.

This man's early life spent in the pastures of Columbia, has not been conducive to the rush and turmoil of our campus life here. When Tally arrived he received a jolt that wholly aroused him from his state of lethargy, since then he has fairly gobbled up all things in his path. As an Assistant in French and English, Tally has been a bugbear of many a hopeful student. Our Wildcat nine, due to hard work of Manager Elliott, has probably the best schedule of games this season that a team has had in years. With the start Tally has acquired in life he'll do the circuit in fine form and be a great credit to his Alma Mater.

QUIPS AND CRANKS-1923

GEORGE DURANT FLEMING, JR.

B. S.

"Jew"

MIAMI, FLA.

"No man is born without ambitious worldly desires."

"Jew" has lived up well to his nickname, for he possesses an almost uncanny ability to rake in the shekels in any undertaking he ventures upon. Like King Midas, things turn to gold at his touch.

"Jew" hails from the state made famous by its oranges and winter resorts. He is a quiet, unobtrusive boy and is seldom seen on the campus except on his way to class. We feel sure that "Jew" will make his impression on this little old globe some day.

MARTIN BOGER FOIL

A. B. I.

"Boge"

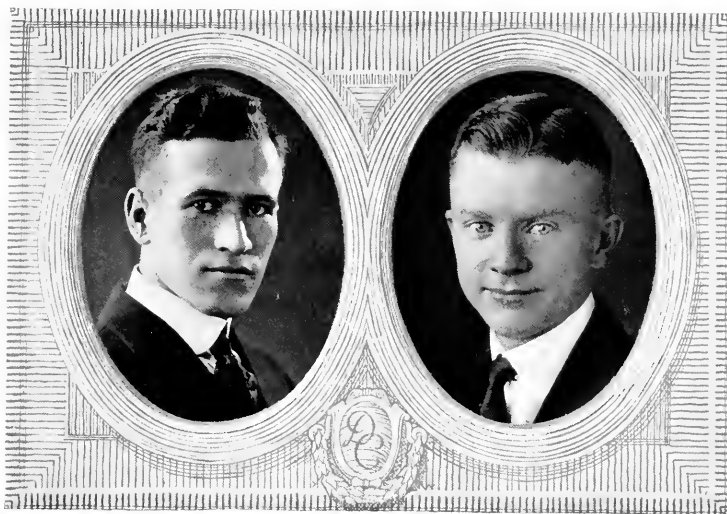

CONCORD, N. C.

"While his off heel, insidiously aside, Provokes the caper which he seems to chide."

Bachelors Club; Vice-President Concord Club; Philanthropic Literary Society.

Martin has the unique distinction of being the only red-headed member of '23, and beneath this henna dome resides a brain that is exceedingly well developed, for although he does not head his class, "Boge" is far from the last. Old styleplus himself had nothing on this boy when clothes are considered. It is therefore evident that he is one of the foremost favored few among the fairer, if not the weaker sex. In business we predict a future as bright as his carrot colored head or as shining as his yellow shoes.

QUIPS AND CRANKS-1923

THOMAS LAYTON FRASER

A. B.

"T. L."

HINESVILLE, GA.

"One who loved true honor more than fame."

Phi Alpha Pi; Secretary and Treasurer Ministerial Band; Vice-President Ministerial Band; Georgia Club; Vice-President Eu Society; Marshall Eu Society; President Eu Society; 1st Sgt. R. O. T. C.; "V" Cabinet; Geechee Club; Monitor Senior Class; Polity Club; Wildcat Minstrels, '23.

T. Layton has won warm friendship of all his class-mates during his sojourn at Davidson by his quiet and unassuming manner. In the midst of his varied tasks he finds time to frolic around on the clay courts, as an ardent follower of Tilden. His career in the literary societies has been one of uninterrupted success. "T. L." has chosen the ministry and should have a large congregation wherever he is called.

WILLIAM ARNETT GAMBLE, JR.

A. B. I.

"Balaam"

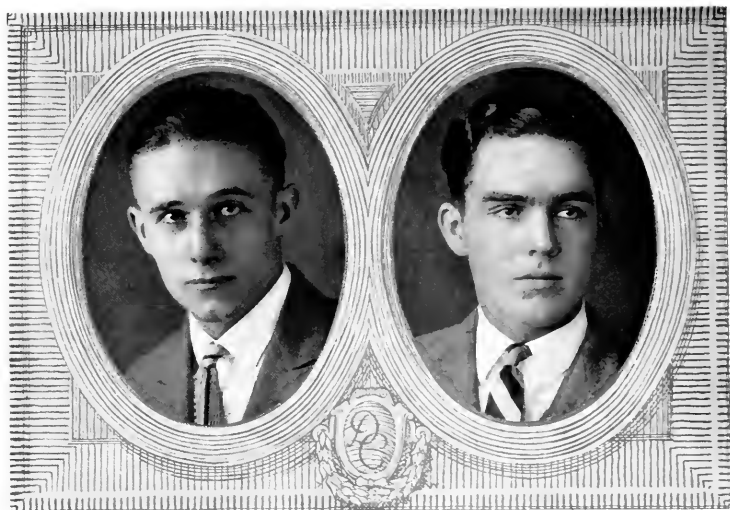

MACON, GA.

"I ne'er have felt the kiss of love Nor a maiden's hand in mine."

Intercollegiate Debating Team (3 years); Debating Council (3 years); Pandemic; Secretary and Treasurer Salesmen's Club; Georgia Club; Ministerial Band; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Delta Pi Kappa; C. E. Training Class; Assistant in English, '21-'22; Assistant in Psychology, '23; Assistant in Public Speaking, '23; Marshall; Managing Editor of Davidsonian, '21-'22; Editor and Business Manager Y. M. C. A. Handbook; Phi Beta Kappa.

Arnett is one of the most quiet and reserved of our members. For conscientious hard work he is the stuff, and whatever he undertakes to do he does it well. He is one of the literary leaders of the class and excels in the forensic art.

We trust he shall fill his calling exceptionally well and wish for him a copious supply of zealotness in the pursuance thereof.

EDGAR TALMADGE GENTRY, JR.

A. B. H.

"E. T."

ATLANTA, GA.

*"A man among men,
A man to the end."*

Class basketball, '23; Scrub Football; Varsity Track, '20-'21; Vigilance Committee, '21-'22; Wearer of the "D"; "D" Club; Georgia Club.

Talmadge, the sturdy youth from Atlanta, is a quiet, unobtrusive sort of fellow. His ready smile has won him scores of friends during his sojourn at Davidson, and the best wishes of his class-mates follow him as he enters the school of life. E. T. is a track athlete of note and seldom fails to place in any event which he enters. His one great hobby is that of "hoboing." He had far rather ride the rods than lounge back on a plush-back Pullman seat, and to pay railroad fare is an entirely unknown sensation to him.

ARTHUR VANN GIBSON

A. B. I.

"Gib"

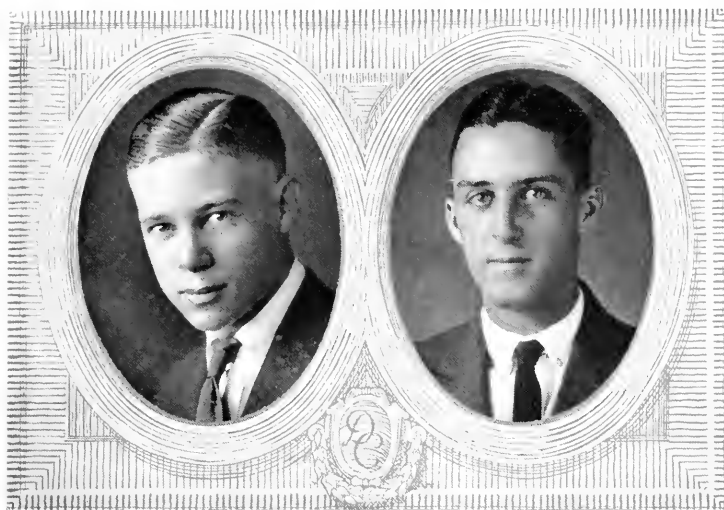

MEBANE, N. C.

"What should a man do but be merry?"

Phi Literary Society; Commencement Marshall, '22-'23; Ministerial Band; Glee Club, '20-'21-'22; Dramatic Club, '21-'22-'23; President Alamance County Club; Class Football, '22; Junior Orator, '22; Friendship Council "Y"; Assistant Cheer Leader, '22; Wildcat Minstrels, '21-'22-'23; Inter-Society Council, '23; 1st Sgt. R. O. T. C.; Monitor, '22.

You would recognize "Gib" at first sight as a good fellow and a chum in all senses of the word. He has a jovial smile and a laugh up his sleeve for every one. He possesses an estimable quality of a ready wit and his jocularly has won a place for him in every Minstrel since his entry through the portals of our beloved Alma Mater. And yet, this is not all, for "Gib" has a genuine musical soul; this talent has obtained for him a berth in the Glee Club three years. It is a certainty that "Gib" will lead in whatever line he takes up.

ROBERT ANDREW GORDON

A. B.

"Bob"

FORT DEFANCE, VA.

"What is life without the light of love."

Library Assistant; Virginia Club; Dramatic Club; "Y" Cabinet; Volunteer Band.

In "Bob" we have one of the most amorous members of the class. It does not require the blossoms of spring-time to turn this young man's fancy towards that state of affairs—his thoughts are directed along that line throughout the year. Seriously speaking though, Bob is possessed of traits which bring the honor and respect of men. Never boisterous or self-assertive, but always polite, courteous and solicitous, he has won a host of friends during his stay at Davidson.

JOHN HUGH GRAY

A. B. H.

"Shine"

BEDFORD, VA.

"A loyal, just and upright gentleman."

Pandemic; Junior Rep; Critic, Pandemic; Marshall, '22-'23; Scrub Football; Class Football; Class Basketball; Manager Debate Council; Ministerial Band.

John is a boy that has shown fine form and a winning determination on the football field. He possesses a true Christian character and his happy smile is one that makes a lasting impression for him wherever he goes. By his kindness to all, his ability as a speaker, Johnny is destined to become a minister in whose congregation any Davidson man will be proud to find himself. We predict a life of unselfish service for this man and feel sure that he will not fall short of our expectations.

WILBERFORCE GETTYS GUILLE

A. B. II.

"Duke"

ATHENS, TENN.

"Remember this—there is a proper dignity and proportion to be observed in the performance of every act of life."

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Phi Beta Kappa; Assistant Business Manager of Davidsonian; Chairman Senior Council "Y"; Assistant in Economics; Bible Class Leader; Advertising Solicitor Davidsonian.

"Duke" while amongst us has acquired many things. The most outstanding features are his newly acquired Phi Beta Kappa key, which stamps him as one of our outstanding lights along scholastic lines, and his invaluable reputation as our one and only characterization of a true country gentleman. Both are well suited to this studious young man, and in the years to come it will only further bear out the proof that it pays to be a "go getter." It has been a great pleasure to have "Duke" with us and we wish him well.

PAUL BENNETT GUTHERY

B. S.

"P."

MYERS PARK, N. C.

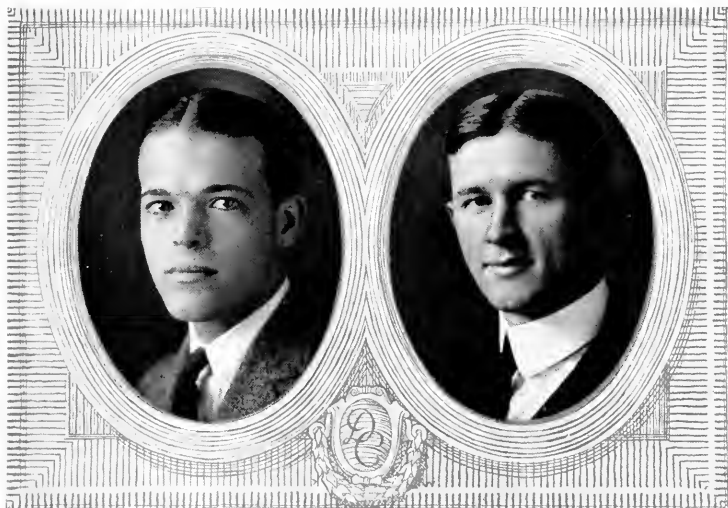

"The reward of one duty is the power to fulfill another."

Kappa Alpha; Business Manager Davidson College Magazine.

This rather lengthy exponent of comeliness is a product of the "Queen City," and judging from his frequent visits to that metropolis, Paul is thought to be seriously in love with one of its fairest. In the capacity of Business Manager of the Davidson College Magazine, Paul sells 'em advertising regardless of their needs. He has only to continue in the paths of such business endeavors and some day P. B. Guthery & Co. will have a close corner on Myers Park real estate.

JENNINGS ELLIOTT HANEY

B. S.

"Eli"

SPINDALE, N. C.

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Art Editor Quips and Cranks; Staff, '21-'22.

"Eli" is another love-sick youth, but in spite of this powerful outside attraction it seems that he has been able to get the best of his professors when it comes to recitations. Quiet and unassuming, he holds the even tenor of his way and is cordial to everyone he meets. He is an artist of some local note, as can be inferred from specimens of his work in this book. We feel sure that the following-up of this talent will assure him of a brilliant future.

FRANK SMITH JOHNSTON

A. B. II.

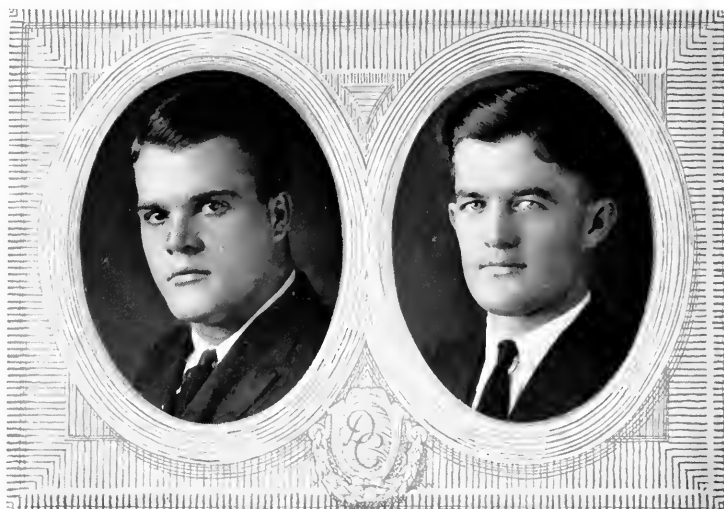

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

"An affable and courteous gentleman."

First Supervisor Phi Society; Ministerial Band; Monitor, '21-'22; Secretary and Treasurer Ministerial Band; Chairman of Debate Council; Junior Commencement Orator; "Y" Cabinet; Chairman Ministerial Band Deputation Committee; Inter-Society Council; Polity Club; President of Phi Society; Senior Commencement Orator; Gavel and Forum.

The ministry will receive one most conscientious man when Frank graduates from the seminary. While he does not lead the class, he is far from the last man in scholarship, and among the first in Literary Societies. When it comes to attributes this boy from the Twin City is a fine chap, all wool and a yard wide. His ambition, Rev. F. S. Johnston, D.D., will be realized, we feel sure.

"Pat"

BREYARD, N. C.

"Strong are her sons tho' rocky are her shores."

Supervisor Phi Society; History Assistant (3); Salesman's Club; Wrestling Team; "D" Club; President Metrophilian Society; Lieut. Company "C"; Honor Roll.

Whether there be any scientists, doctors, merchants or what not in the class of '23, we claim for sure a lawyer, William Patton Kimzey. He was always ready to take the floor for a good cause or defeat a bad one. Fearless and unafraid, "Pat" has always stood high in his classes and is famous on the campus as a wrestler of no mean ability. When he wrestles with life, we've got our money on "Pat," and nominate him for the hall of fame.

HAYES SHIPMAN MCCALLUM

B. S.

WHITE SPRINGS, FLA.

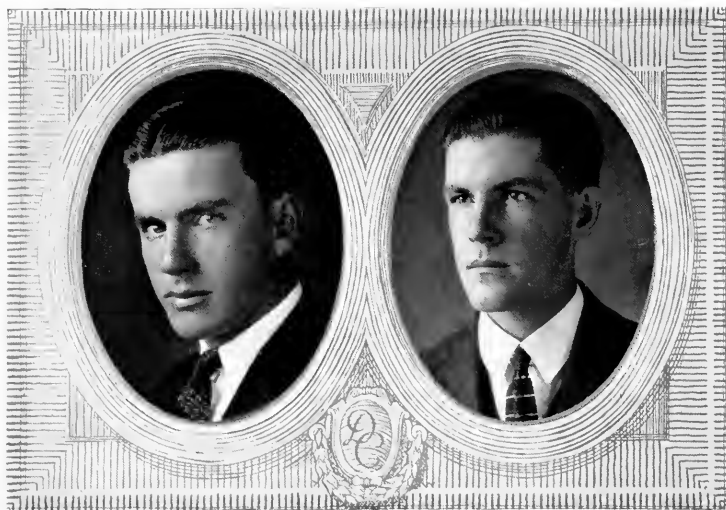

"This day we fashion destiny, our web of fate we spin."

Delta Theta Chi; Assistant in German; Lieut. R. O. T. C.

H. S. hails from Florida, and a right worthy representative he is. Not only has he brought a warm smile, but a warm heart and similar disposition. Although they say he speaks German like a Dutchman, we never have heard him swear like the proverbial gentleman from the dykes. When Hayes climbs on the alumni special going south he won't be lost to us forever. We expect to hear of him again, and predict good news.

JOHN BANTER MCCALLUM

A. B. H.

"Jonnie"

MAXTON, N. C.

"Night after night he sat and bleared his eyes with books."

Phi Society; Robeson County Club; Class Football.

We have never been to Maxton, but we are going there some day, and we predict Johnny will be mayor, district attorney, or something like that. He is a good student and always cheerful, with a smile for everyone. He is everybody's friend, and always a staunch supporter of the class of '23. In these days when a good man's hard to find, we are lucky to know Johnny—a regular fellow, a good student, a true friend.

JOHN MCCRUMMEN

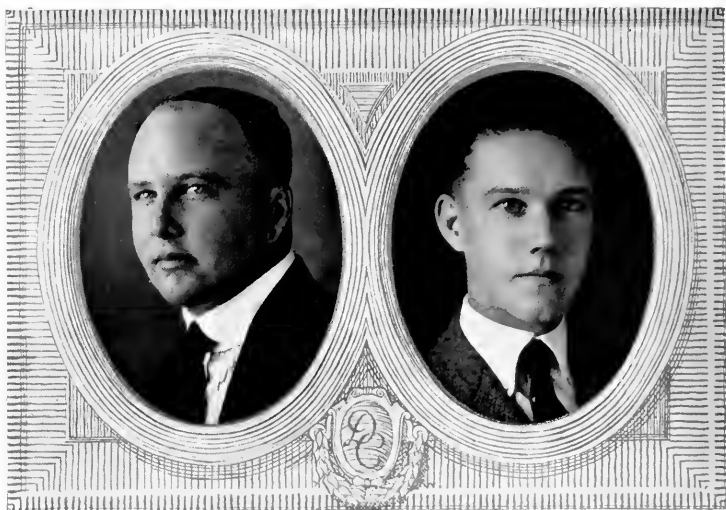

"Mac"

WEST END, N. C.

"We shall escape the uphill by never turning back."

Pandemic Literary Society; Assistant in Biology; Aesculapean Club.

John came to Davidson with a definite aim of taking up a pre-medical course, the hardest on the hill. He has not been overcome by the difficulties that would cause many a man to stumble. By his perseverance, faithfulness, and natural talent for such things, he has reached the stage where he can talk with the Physics professor, joke with the Chemical professor, and argue with the professor of Biology—all with equal ease. Besides this, John is a friend who sticks through thick and thin—an ideal doctor.

GEORGE McCUTCHEN, JR.

A. B. II.

ST. CHARLES, S. C.

"And joy comes from work alone."

You have to be a busy man to find George, "for birds of a feather flock together," and George never loaf. Quiet and unassuming in his manners, one can't help liking him. In whatever George undertakes he's bound to make his mark if grit and perseverance will turn the trick. We hate to see you leave us, George.

JAMES McCUTCHEN

B. S.

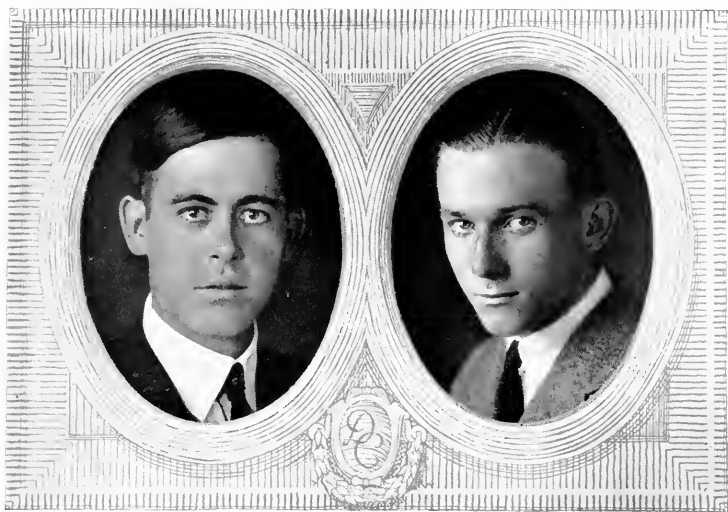

"Jim"

NESMITH, S. C.

"The hand that follows intellect can achieve."

Eu Literary Society; Le Cercle Francais; Class Baseball, '21-'22; South Carolina Club.

"Jim" hails from the Palmetto State, and as many of her sons, he is a most worthy Spanish athlete, being a leader among the literary societies. His many friends hate to see him leave the campus of his Alma Mater, but glad that he will have a broader field for the working of his many abilities as shown here on the campus. Although quiet and unobtrusive, "Jim" is a friend that many are more than proud to claim.

ROGER MARTIN MCGIRT

A. B. II.

"Mac"

MAXTON, N. C.

"Taste the joy that springs from labor."

Phi Society; Sigma Pi Sigma; Polity Club; Robeson County Club; Assistants Club; Class Basketball; Punctuality Roll.

Quiet and unassuming, as is the way with all men of his type, for "still waters run deep," Roger has cultivated a large number of friends while carrying out that most necessary occupation of cultivating his brain. And not only can he boast of friends, but his friends may also boast of him, for he is well worthy of their praise.

JAMES LEROY MCLAURIN

A. B. II.

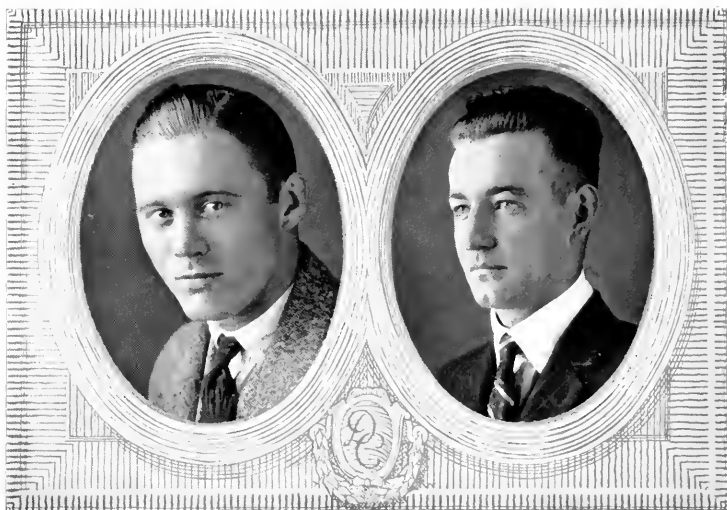

ROLAND, N. C.

"Aud, weaponless himself made arms ridiculous."

Scrub Football (2 years); Scrub Basketball (2 years); Track Squad, '21.

If you're looking for a man who has an ever-ready smile and a hearty "hello," you've found him in "Mac." However, "Mac" doesn't smile when he's playing basketball or football, and many of his fellow-scrubs are wary when the ball is in his hands and he's coming down the floor or field. We're expecting you to clear out your opposition in the same way when you hit Life's road, "Mac."

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

ROBERT LEE MCLEOD, JR.
"Bob"

MAXTON, N. C.
A. B. H.

"I am a part of all I have met."

Pi Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Pan-Hellenic; Phi Society; Charter Member, Metropolitan Literary Society; Assistant Business Manager, '22; Business Manager Annual, '23; Humorous Editor Magazine, '22; Assistant Art Editor, '23; Leader Glee Club, '23; Manager Glee Club, '22; College Quartette (4 years); Assistant Cheer Leader, '23; Dramatic Club; "P" Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

The "low countries" in the eastern part of North Carolina have given many men to Davidson, but none like Bob McLeod. His is one of those rare personalities that becomes a part of everything that it comes in contact with. His class-mates will long remember the tall man with the wavy hair who could fill the roles of heart-smasher and business man at the same time and play both to perfection. The student body will long remember him as the leader in giving the team that old pep from the grandstand and yet they will not miss his leadership here so much as they will feel the lack of that helping hand and friendship that radiates from "Bob" everywhere he goes.

JOHN HECTOR MCRATNEY

B. S.

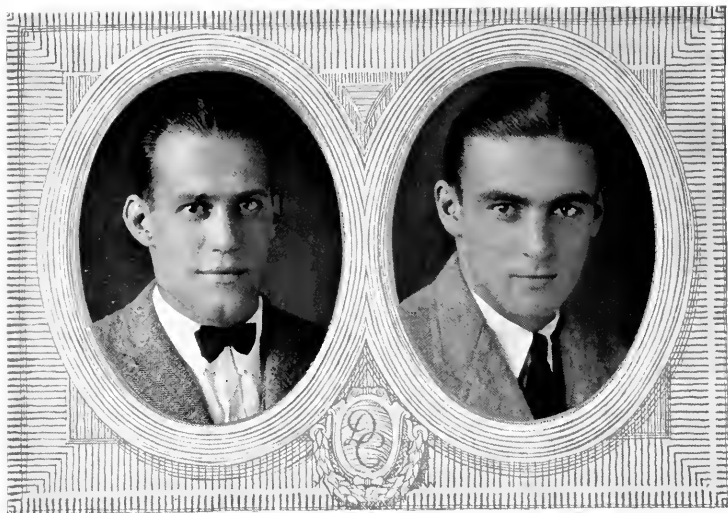

"Heck"

PARKTON, N. C.

"The mildest manners and the gentlest heart."

Phi Literary Society; Aesculapian Club; Robeson County Club; Lieut. R. O. T. C., '22-'23; Punctuality Roll.

"Heck" numbers every man in the class as his friend, although quiet and inclined to be studious. Never have we seen Hector without a piece of chocolate in his mouth, or is it Climax? After deep thought on the subject we have come to the conclusion that it is the former, for "He eats it, gentlemen, he eats it." In advanced R. O. T. C. this lad from Parkton is especially capable, and we predict a future for him as shining as his Sam Brown belt and officer's buttons.

WILLIAM JOSEPH MARTIN, JR.

B. S.

"Bill Joe"

DAVIDSON, N. C.

"Press on—Keep moving."

Kappa Sigma; Varsity Football, '22; "D" Club.

At last, in "Bill Joe" we have a true native son. Coming to Davidson to graduate after rejecting Annapolis and N. C. State, he has made a peculiar place for himself on the campus, and when he crosses the platform to receive his "dip" he will indeed leave behind a place that cannot be filled. By his ability to fight even against overwhelming odds "Bill Joe" has made a friend of every man on the hill, and we will expect him to plunge through life as he so often plunged through the opposing line on Sprunt Field.

GEORGE WATTS MAUZE

A. B. I.

"Warhorse"

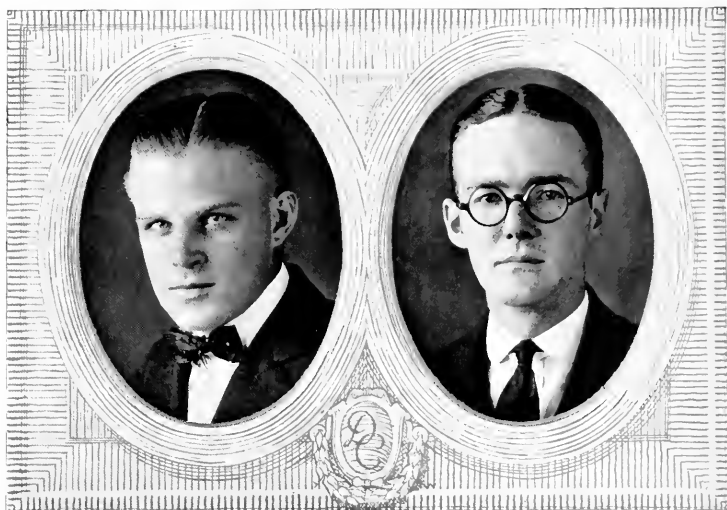

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

"A faultless body and a blameless mind."

Bachelors Club; Editor, Secretary and Treasurer Volunteer Band; Student Council; Reporters' Club; Class Basketball (3 years); Captain and Manager Class Basketball (3 years); Vice-President Reporters' Club; Class Track; Class Football; Varsity Basketball (2 years); Captain Varsity Basketball, '23; Wearer of the "D"; All-State Center, '22; Secretary and Treasurer Senior Class; 1st Lieut. R. O. T. C.; Executive Committee Athletic Association; Secretary Student Council; All-Class Basketball (2 years).

"Warhorse" is another of our stellar basketballers. An All-State center, and one of the hardest fighters we have seen. None could be his equal. There is a daily beauty in his life that cannot be copied. His fine qualities are beautifully blended, easily interpreted, difficult to achieve.

His probable return to his Alma Mater to complete his literary education has caused much enthusiasm on the Hill, and his vast host of friends will be waiting to greet him warmly at the opening next fall.

WALLACE HENRY MOORE

A. B.

"Wallace"

TAKAMATSU, JAPAN

"There is no fettering of authority."

Bachelors' Club; Pandemic Literary Society; International Relations Club; Gavel and Forum; Reporters' Club; Dramatic Club; Class Football, '21-'22-'23; Scrub Football, '22; President Pandemic; Secretary McCallie Club, '23; Junior and Senior Orator's Rep; Captain and Adjutant R. O. T. C.

Wallace entered our midst in his Soph year from Austin College. Since that time we have gotten our absence cards regularly, for it is he who notifies us every Monday of the number of classes and Chapels we have cut. In Literary Society and R. O. T. C. Wallace is a shining star. His power of expression and argument in the former would have fitted Demosthenes in his youth, and in the latter he is an "Apollo disguised as Mars." He is imbued with the characteristics that make everyone like him. A real friend cherished by all. Having chosen Law as his calling, we predict a most brilliant future for him.

HENRY McALLEN MORRIS

A. B. II.

"Ikey"

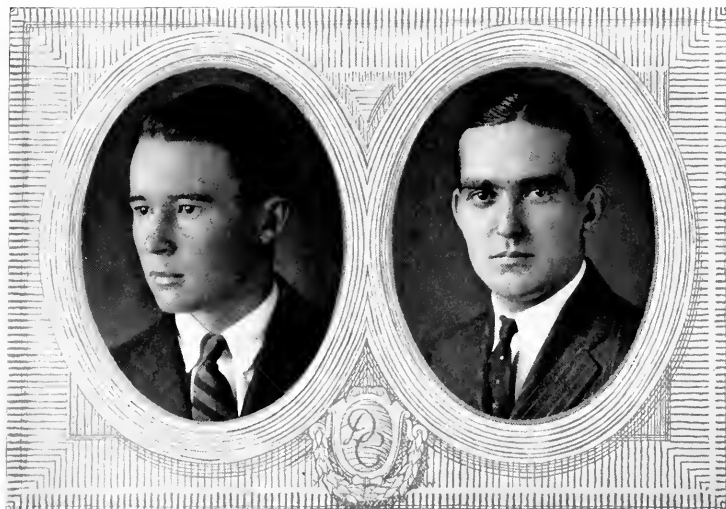

STAUNTON, VA.

*"One thing is forever good,

Eu; Sigma Upsilon; Reporters' Club; Davidsonian Staff; Tennis Team, '21-'22, '22-'23; Wearer of the Golden Quill; Assistant in English; Reviewer Eu Society; President Virginia Club; Member of the Spooks; Lord High Keeper of the Commissary.

Henry should have been named "Ikey Isadore Einstein," or some similar cognomen, because of his uncanny ability as a salesman. We believe he could sell Stacomb to bald-headed men. Henry nearly died of fright when Watts burned, as he was sure his beloved Commissary was going up in smoke. Taken all in all he is one of the most popular boys in school and we are sure that he will add many friends to his now overflowing list wherever he goes.

QUIPS AND CRANKS-1923

ZEBULON ALEXANDER MORRIS, JR.

A. B. I.

"Zeb"

CONCORD, N. C.

*"Come and trip it as ye go
On the light fantastic toe."*

Eu Society; Junior Speaking Rep; President of Concord Club.

"Zeb" is one of the midgets of our class, but man is not judged by his stature. He always has a pleasant smile which will do much towards winning his way in the world. Although "Zeb" claims that he has not met the One and Only yet, they do say that scores of the fair sex fall for his line. "Zeb" plans to complete his literary education either at his Alma Mater or Virginia. Wherever he goes and into whatever walk of life he enters, a bright future is predicted.

HENRY FRANCIS NORTHROP

B. S.

"Jelly"

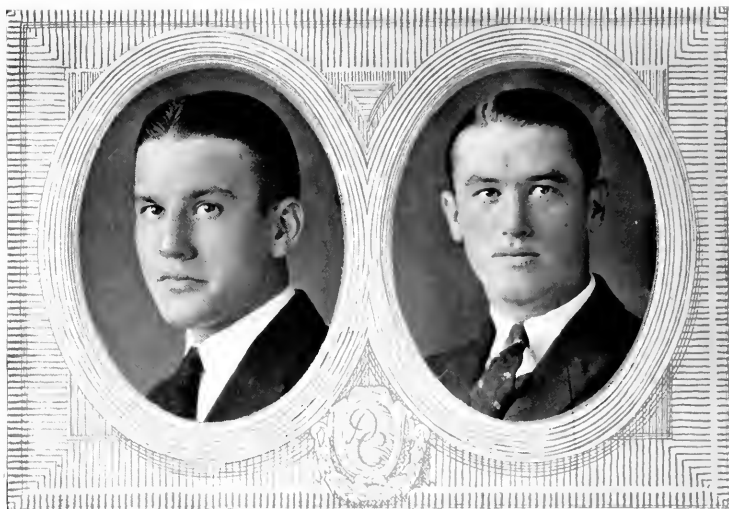

ST. PAULS, N. C.

"Gaily the troubadour touched his instrument."

Pi Kappa Alpha; Glee Club, '21-'22-'23; Dramatic Club, '22-'23; Wildcat Minstrels.

"Play for us Jelly." Ever hear that? If you haven't, you have never been in the company of Frank Northrop and a piano at the same time, and the lady has yet to be found who can resist when "Jelly" begins to coo. In the wake of minstrel trips, orchestra trips, etc., there is always the question, "Who was the one who played?" We are expecting some day to be playing records of all kinds by "Northrop's Orchestra."

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

DUNBAR HUNT OGDEN

A. B. I.

"Dunbar"

MOBILE, ALA.

"He knows books as a sailor knows the seas."

Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Delta Pi Kappa; Eu Literary Society; Polity Club; Gavel and Forum; Phi Beta Kappa; "Y" Cabinet; Davidson Staff; Magazine Staff; Captain of R. O. T. C.; Freshman Alumni Medal; Eu Fresh/Soph Debater's Medal; Eu Fresh/Soph Declaimer's Medal; Eu Junior/Senior Debater's Medal; Junior Orator's Medal; Secretary Eu Society, '20-'21; History Assistant, '21-'22; Vice President Eu Society, '21-'22; President, '22-'23; Honor Roll; Phi Beta Kappa.

Four years of study and intensive literary work have made of Dunbar the quiet but aggressive man that we know. A debater of natural excellency in delivery and speech, this man has done great work for his Alma Mater along forensic lines. But Dunbar's development is not only scholastic, for he is one of the most skillful gymnasts in school. As he leaves, Davidson loses a man whom any college would proudly claim and into whatever walk of life he goes, success is sure to be with him.

WILLIAM JAMES RICHARDS

B. S.

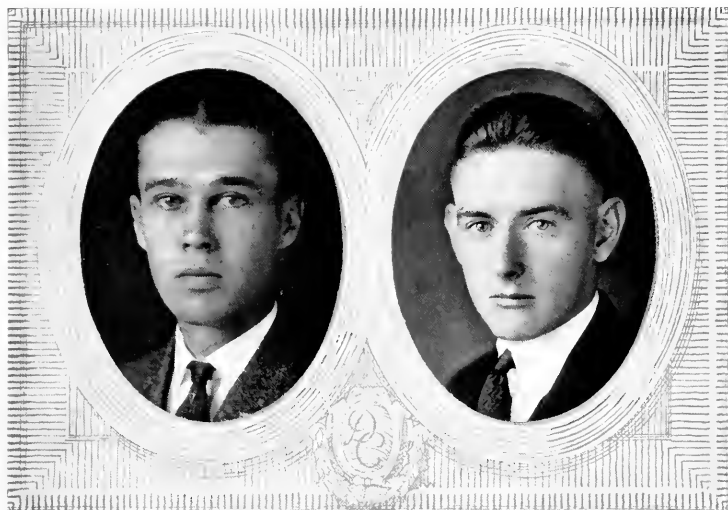

"Dick"

LIBERTY HILL, S. C.

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men."

Bachelors Club; Eu Society; Student Court of Control; St. Cecilia; Scrub Baseball (3 years); Class Football (2 years); Class Basketball; Class Track.

Smiling, jesting, day after day as if troubles will never come. Everyone forgets sorrow when "Dick" comes 'round. Gloom spreads its wings and sails to foreign realms. So jovial and friendly that a lasting impression is ever made. With the "grrrils" "Dick" is a modern Don Juan. Perhaps not as handsome—but this only affords the pleasure of noting finer qualities which glow far brighter and give beauty even as a spherule of radium lends beauty to its surroundings.

GRAVES BAXTER ROBERTS

A. B. II.

"G. B."

GREELEY, COLO.

"A stern man with an empire in his brain."

Class Football, '20-'21; Track, '22; Le Cercle Francais; Battalion Sgt. Major.

Damon and Pythias had nothing on G. B. and his brother Leonard. While Leonard was here with us, one was rarely seen without the other, and this was greatly admired in the two brothers. Graves is very quiet until one knows him, but then he makes the best of friends. He was the pride of the Davidson Platoon at Camp Knox, in the summer of '21, when he won the decision from a Cornell man in the gentle pugilistic art, and by the good work he has done in his studies one may well believe his mind to be as perfect as his muscles.

HARRY KITSUM RUSSELL

B. S.

"Harry"

LUMBERTON, N. C.

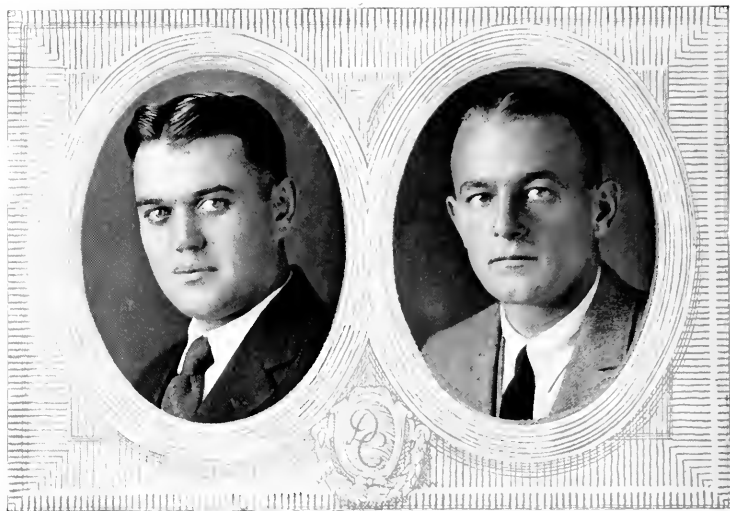

"By wisdom wealth is won;

But riches purchased wisdom yet for none."

Sigma Upsilon; Gavel and Forum; First Critic and President Phi Society; Student Council; Dramatic Club; Assistant in English; Magazine Staff; Robeson County Club; Treasurer Ministerial Band; President International Relations Club; Treasurer "Y"; "Y" Board of Control; "Y" Cabinet.

Harry firmly believes in the might of the pen, for in any issue of the magazine you may find the products of his labor. At the various festive seasons of the year, it is often the work of H. K. Russell that entertains a crowded house in Shearer, for Harry is a playwright. Forever at work, he binds his friends to him with straps of iron. Without a doubt his determination and grit will carry him far in the world. Our best wishes are with him.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

WILLIAM HIRAM SHARPE

A. B. I.

"Hiram"

DEFUNIACK SPRINGS, FLA.

"Laugh and grow fat."

Phi Alpha Pi; Polity Club; Reporters' Club; Eu Society; Florida Club; Punctuality Roll, '21-'22; Ministerial Band; Treasurer of Eu; Vice-President of Polity Club; Library Assistant; Assistant in Bible.

Hiram is the lad who applies the old adage "Laugh and grow fat." Never seen without a smile on his face, he is neither small in circumference nor abilities. Always on the quiet, except when he feels an oration surging in his throat for a literary society meeting, he has made his friends numerous. A love of books asserts itself in Hiram, and almost daily he fondles numerous volumes in the library—dusting them.

WILLIAM SPRINGS SHEPHERD

Special

"Gig"

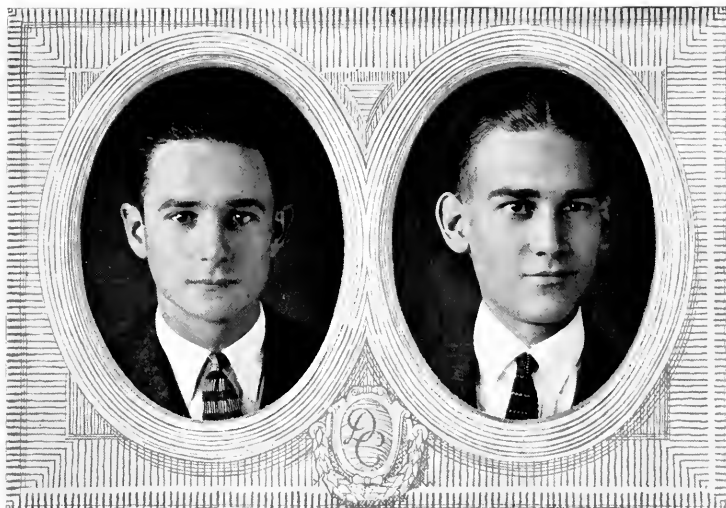

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

*"One thing is forever good;

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa; Varsity Football (3); President Athletic Association; "D" Club; Pan-Hellenic Council.

"Gig" is to be with us again next year, and those who will uphold the Red and Black on the football field will be more than glad to have him with them, because many a game has been turned from defeat into victory by his quick work and educated toe. He is finishing his term as President of the Athletic Association, and has made as efficient a leader as could be wanted. If he makes as good a doctor as he has an athlete, he will be one of the few in the upper realms of success.

QUIPS AND CRANKS -1923

CHARLES PINKNEY SIMMONS

B. S.

"Pinkey"

LAURENS, S. C.

Kappa Sigma; Pan-Hellenic Council.

"And what he greatly thought, he greatly dared."

Here we have another man from the Palmetto State. Four years ago, "Pinkey" broke forth from his South Carolina home and honored Davidson with his presence. As a Spanish athlete, he has proven himself worthy of a berth on the mythical All-American eleven. The Sand-Lappers will be proud to welcome him home as we will hate to see him go, because he has become a "Davidson Man."

JOHN BENSON SLOAN, JR.

A. B. H.

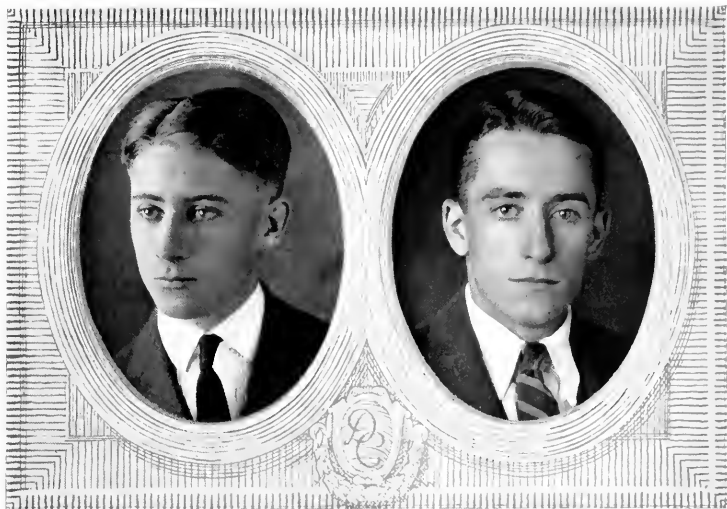

"Bens"

NINETY-SIX, S. C.

"The will to do and the soul to dare."

Delta Theta Chi; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Aesculapian Club; Eu Society; Wildcat Minstrels, 22; Quips and Cranks Staff, '23.

"J. B." has at last found his calling. In a diligent search the Dramatic Club finally landed on this wiry youth to fill the bill as a contortionist. His aptitude in tying himself in square knots and flying U's gains for him the prediction that "Bens" will soon join the colors of Barnum & Bailey, thereby making the circus game a real enjoyment. "J. B.", unlike most of us, has an intense liking for lab sciences. He is equally at home in Chemistry, Physics, Bug and the realms of higher Math. If the above prophecy fails, he will no doubt prove a boon to Ninety-Six as a Chemical Engineer.

SAMUEL REED SLOAN

A. B. I.

"S. R."

SALISBURY, N. C.

*"I care for nobody, not not I.
If no one cares for me."*

Delta Theta Chi; Sigma Pi Sigma; Phi Society; Treasurer Phi, '22; Assistant in Physics (2 years).

Another of the lads who always greets you with a smile. Though he doesn't measure six feet six or toot his own horn, his friends know that he is there with the goods. S. R. has gone through the four years at Davidson and shown his worth by his deeds, for thus Davidson men are known. A friend in need and a man to be called on when needed, we wish him the best o' luck along his chosen walk of life.

HUGH HOLLINGSWORTH SMITH

A. B. II.

"Jakkie"

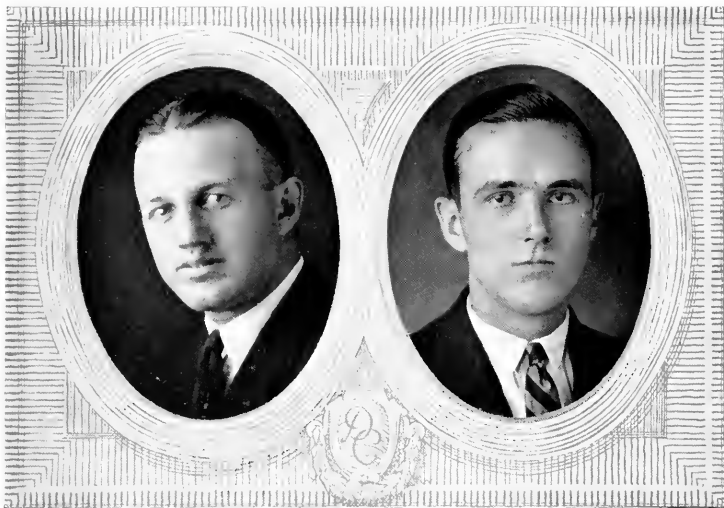

EASLEY, S. C.

"But chiefly, the mould of man's fortunes is in his own hands."

Pi Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Sigma Pi Sigma; Secretary Vice-President Eu; Marshall, '21-'22; Debating Council, '22-'23; Secretary and Treasurer Class, '20-'21; Vice-President Class, '22-'23; Vice-President Student Body, '21-'22; Student Council (2 years); "Y" Cabinet; Vice-President Y, M. C. A., '22-'23; Assistant Manager Football, '21-'22; Manager of Football, '22-'23; Honor Roll, '20-'21; Magazine Staff, '22-'23; Davidsonian Staff (2 years); "D" Club; Lord High Keeper of the Commissary; Phi Beta Kappa.

Distinguished? Yea, even to his laugh! With an all-round character that has few equals, Hugh is finishing his career at Davidson in a worthy manner. His interest is in anything commendable and all things that are constructive. His activities carry him from the football training room through practically every student organization and thru the portals of Phi Beta Kappa. In spite of it all, he is one of the best liked men on the Davidson campus. If he goes at life with the same vim and ability that he has shown here, our good wishes are not necessary, but here they are, Hugh.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

GEORGE BASCOMB SORRELLS

B. S.

"Lefty"

CALHOUN, GA.

"That tower of strength which stood four square to all the wind that blows."

Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; President Senior Class; President "D" Club; President Pan Hellenic Council; Critic Pandemic Literary Society; Junior Commencement Orator; Captain Class Football; Captain of Class Baseball; Varsity Football (2 years); Varsity Baseball; Historian, Freshman Class; "Y" Cabinet; Student Council, '22-'23; Georgia Club; A. E. F. Club; Polity Club; Band; "Y" Quartet.

A man, gentlemen, Bascomb is one of the most popular members of his class and we might say of the entire student body. He wins one's confidence immediately by his genial and magnetic personality. A thorough Christian, a fine speaker, an athlete and a singer, Bascomb has made his influence felt in all the activities on the hill. Whenever any question comes up on the campus he is always found on the right side with the best interest of his fellow students on his heart. Bascomb's ability as a football and baseball player is well recognized and his superhuman playing in the V. P. L. gridiron contest will long be remembered by all who witnessed the contest. A glance at his honors would indicate that some day he may be president of the United States. Would that more men might be made on Bascomb's plan.

JAMES FRENHOLM SPILLMAN

A. B. I.

"Spivis"

COLUMBIA, S. C.

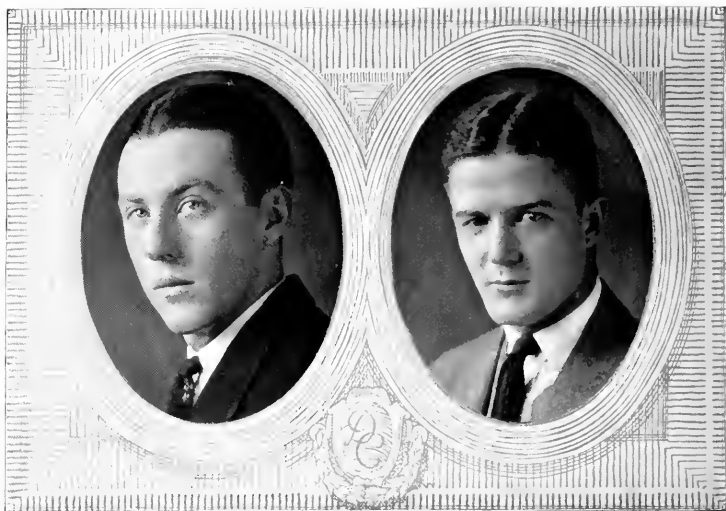

*"He knows to live who keeps the middle state
And neither leans on this side or that."*

Kappa Sigma.

Another of the "lady smasher" type, Jim came to us seemingly very unconcerned as to the possibilities of four years spent in delving among the subjects of higher lore. Notwithstanding this, we're justly proud of Jim, as he has seen fit to mingle work with play in a manner that means the attainment of lofty achievements. Just keep up your present stride, Jim, and you'll be a man ever worthy of the title—"A Davidson Man."

ROBERT EDWARD SYDENSTRICKER

B. S.

"Stricker"

LEWISBURG, W. VA.

"And with sanity of reason."

"Stricker" the "Yank" of leisure from West Virginia. Tall, handsome, good-natured and loved by all, especially by "Lib." "Stricker" will leave D. C. with the friendship of every man in the student body, an enviable record. In class football he ploughed through the Juniors as would a Packard hit a "Ford" (?). Although majoring in "Short Horns," he himself is an exception. If all his short horns were put into one cow, that cow could eat bananas off the trees of Florida and at the same time switch icicles off of the north pole with her tail, give enough milk in one day to feed the Armenians until Russia becomes a democracy or Harding is golf champion, and Mt. Mourne is as large as New York City.

FRANCIS CECIL THAMES

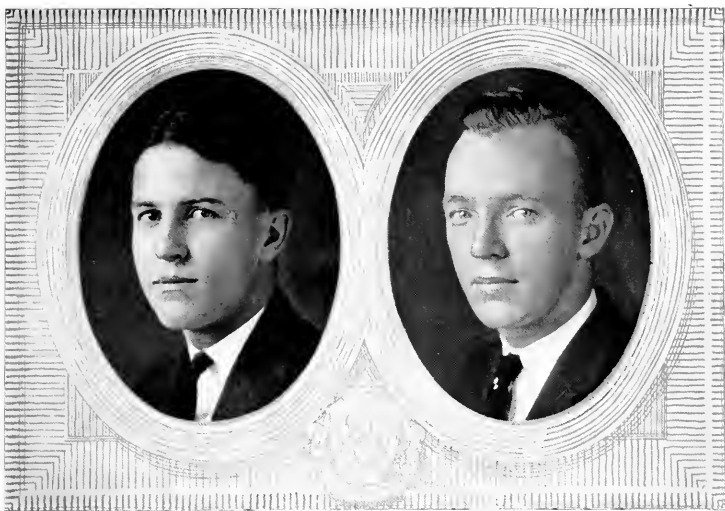

A. B.

"Izzy"

"In friendship I was early taught to believe."

Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Metrophilian Literary Society; Honor Roll; Student Council (2 years); Le Cercle Français; Aesculapian Club; Spanish Club; 2nd Lieut. R. O. T. C.; Assistant in Math; Monitor; Glee Club.

There's not so very much of "Izzy," so far as physical dimensions are concerned; however, his small anatomy is chuck full of good nature and likeability. In spite of the fact that he comes from the wilds of Arkansas, he sets a pace that's hard to keep up with when mathematics and the like are under discussion. There is yet to be found the man who wouldn't be proud to claim him as a friend, and wherever he goes to take up his life work dame fortune will have to be wary, if she intends keeping "Izzy" from striking the high road to success.

FRANK KIMBROUGH TONEY

A. B. I.

PINE BLUFF, ARK.

"Strong reasons make strong actions, culminating in strong men."

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Class Basketball (4 years); Scrub Basketball (4 years); Captain Senior Class Basketball Team; "Y" Cabinet.

Frank numbers his friends by his acquaintances, and those who have known him since his entrance at Davidson four years ago realize his true worth. He isn't the ideal example, perhaps, but he's a prince of a good fellow and doesn't stop there, because when he undertakes a thing, he never stops until success marks his efforts. As a student he is never bothered by the necessity of being on intimate terms with his professors.

GUY EDWARD WEEKS

A. B. II.

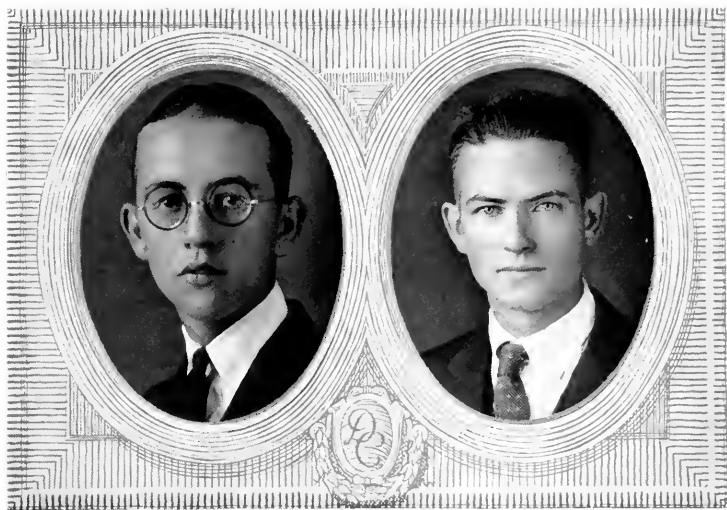

MIAMI, FLA.

"A religious life is a struggle and not a hymn."

Pandemic Literary Society; Chairman Inter-Society Council; Secretary D. C. Student Volunteer Band, '22-'23; President N. C. State Volunteer Union, '22-'23; Member North American Student Volunteer Council, '23; Assistant Business Manager Davidsonian, '22-'23; "Y" Cabinet, '22-'23; Scrub Football, '21-'22; 1st Lieut. R. O. T. C.

Although Guy changed his native state for a better one, he couldn't find a better college to change to, so he stayed with us. And right glad we are, for Guy has done much for us in religious work, not to mention other things. Always a faithful worker and a good friend, let us predict that somewhere with somebody he hasn't told us about, he will some day make his way into the hearts of the heathen Chinese, or the Zapa Zaps. We hope wherever he goes they won't be cannibals, for Guy strikes us as a very tasty morsel in more ways than one. So girls take notice, if you like a good man, here he is!

EDGEWOOD, S. C.

"It takes more than a fool to hold his tongue."

Another son of the "Sandlapper State" came with us in 1919 when we first entered the portals of Davidson and he has been with us ever since, and far ahead of many in his studies especially. Verily he is the man that put the "stud in study," and is known to leave his room three times a day—for meals. Quiet in his ways, he has to be known to be appreciated, but when known he is truly appreciated. He leaves with the assurance of being one of the men we know will succeed.

CHARLES FRANKLIN WILDMAN

B. S.

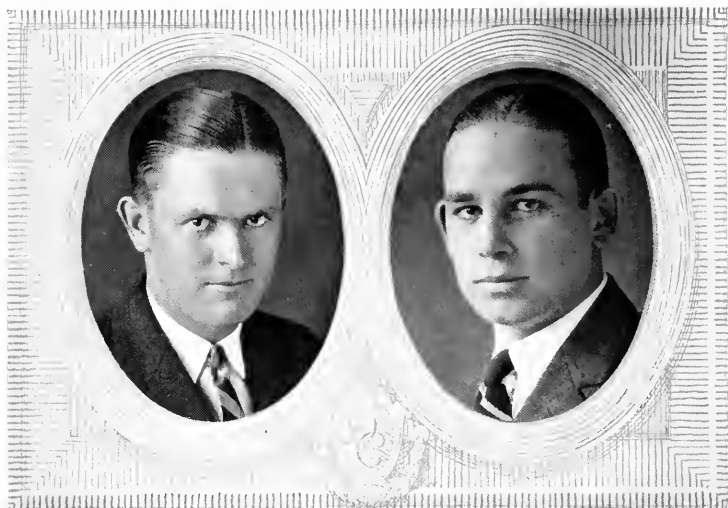

"Borneo"

PARMELE, N. C.

"Exhausting thought, and living wisdom with each studious year."

Phi Alpha Pi, Gamma Sigma Epsilon; Sigma Pi Sigma; Le Cercle Francais; Alumni Editor Davidsonian; Wearer of the Golden Quill; International Relations Club; Reporters' Club; President of Aesculapian Club, '22-'23; Battalion Supply Officer, R. O. T. C.; Secretary and Treasurer Georgia Club, '21-'22; Salesman's Club; Eu Society; Fandemic Literary Society; Biology Assistant, '20-'21; Assistant in Mathematics, '21-'22; Assistant in Chemistry, '21-'22 and '22-'23; Assistant in Physiology and Hygiene, '22-'23.

If it's trouble in math, you have only to page Wildman. As a coach in the gentle science of elongated squares and cube roots Frank is equalled by few, surpassed by none. Full of ideas, and always ready to put them to work for the betterment of all concerned. In this son of '23 we see one who some day will astound the world by his discoveries of the fifth and sixth dimensions. And judging from his record at Davidson, we may safely assure you that he will come through with all that's expected of him.

ROBERT UNDERWOOD WOODS

A. B. I.

"Chink"

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA.

"The eternal feminine doth draw us on."

Pi Kappa Alpha; Metrophilian; A. E. F. Club; Scrub Football; Class Basketball; Class Football; Class Baseball.

We are glad that "Chink" decided to come back to Davidson and enter the class of '23. During his two years among us he has made many friends. "Chink" is also a "hound" with the ladies. They simply go wild about his dancing, and he just loves to dance. Give him a pretty high school girl, a slick floor and some music and "Chink" is in his glory. On the campus it is rumored he is coming back next year and take an M.A. in Education.

ELLIS TRIGG WOOLFOLK, JR.

B. S.

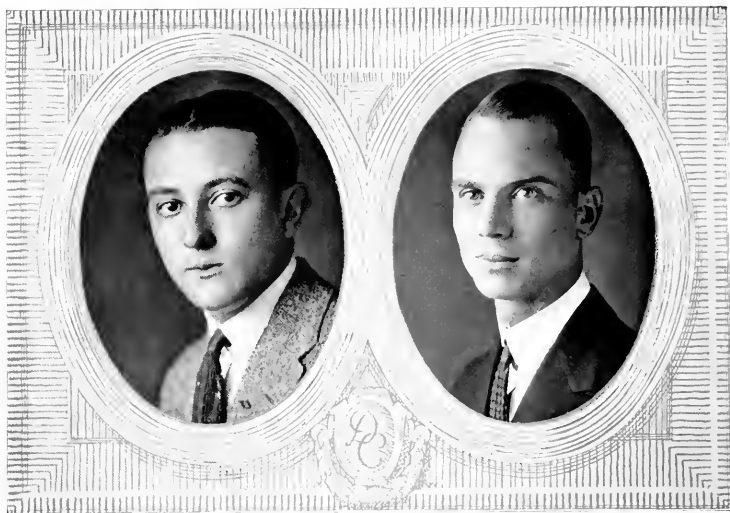

"Tubby"

TUNICA, MISS.

"Attempt the end and never stand to doubt; Nothing's so hard, but search will find it out."

Bachelors' Club; Sigma Upsilon; Assistant Business Manager "Davidsonian," '21; Assistant and Business Manager Davidson College Magazine; Humorous Editor of Magazine; Dramatic Club, '20, '21, '22, '23; Wildcat Minstrels, '20, '21, '22, '23; President Dramatic Club, '23; Editor-in-Chief Dramatic Club Year Book, '23; Quips and Cranks Staff, '21; Art Editor, '22; Literary Editor, '23; Enr; Sergeant R. O. T. C.

"Tubby" leaves us with a full string of honors hung over his shoulders, and it is to his work that the Seniors owe the success of one of the most difficult sections of the Annual. He has "brought down the house" more than once with his imitations of the Sons of Ham, and has been one of the causes for the forward strides which the Dramatic Club has made in the last few years. He goes back to Mississippi in order that he may reap enough shekels to make permanent his attachment for one of South Carolina's beauties.

HARRY HASTINGS WYMAN, III

"Harry"

AIKEN, S. C.

*"Endurance is the crowning quality,
And patience is the passion of great hearts."*

Harry is locally noted for his ability as a Chemistry "stud," for over in the Martin building he reigns over a flock of beginners in the art of mixing divers chemicals. He is the sort of chap who makes a success of his college course and will succeed at anything he attempts. His place will be hard to fill in the nightly meetings on the first floor of East Dormitory, where a healthy line of talk is spread. Harry is an all 'round good fellow, and leaves a wide circle of friends in the three lower classes.

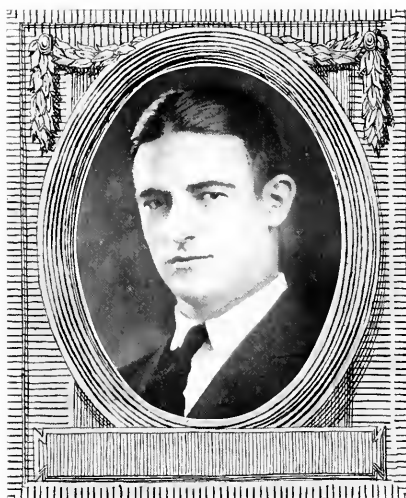

A. L. YOUNG

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

"Nothing endureth like personal qualities."

"A.L." finished the little bit of work that he lacked to get his degree during the first term of the year, and we did not see much of him on the campus, but all knew him to be a good, likeable fellow. He held the even tenor of his ways and was cordial to everyone he met. He always went in to win, and we know that he will land on top in the world.

EUGENE HARMAN MAUZE

"Bill"

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

"No really great man ever thought himself such."

Bachelors' Club; Reporters' Club; Golden Quill; Athletic Editor of The Davidsonian; Quips and Cranks Staff, '22; Athletic Editor '23; Delta Pi Kappa; Scrub Football; Class Basketball; Pandemic Literary Society.

"Bill's Bull"—how many times have we seen that staring us in the face from the pages of The Davidsonian? Behold, a man addicted to all such things. "Bill's" pen and ready wit have supplied many a column of athletic dope in every publication on the hill. In spite of his five feet sixteen inches, he is as close a pal as a fellow could want. "Bill" is a business man and a man who believes that hard work can accomplish many things.

CLIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

JAMES FRANKLIN BRAWLEY

B. S.

"Jim"

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

"Silence is deep as eternity, speech is as shallow as time."

Metrophilian Literary Society.

"Jim" hails from the nearby metropolis of Mooresville. You might be on the campus for some time before you would get to know him, for he is not given to pushing himself by the quite usual windbag process, common to so many of us. "Jim" has not been howled down with worries; he is unusually care-free for a grad of our worthy institution. With his merry smile and sincerity of purpose we expect him to go far in the game of life.

WILLIAM THOMAS LONG

B. S.

"Tige"

CORNELIUS, N. C.

"Quiet in appearance with motive unknown."

This youth from the nearby town of Cornelius spends more of his time off the Hill than on, but with that he has remained here long enough to capture the coveted "D" in football and he certainly deserved it, as can be testified by many of his opposing tackles. No one knows what he is going to do for a livelihood, but whatever sphere of life he chooses will be filled by a diligent, tenacious man who will remove obstacles and become a success.

STEWART GREEN MCKAY

B. S.

"Mickey"

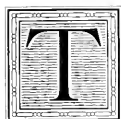

DUKE, N. C.

"A very merry dancing, drinking, Laugh-quaffing and unthunking."

Scrub Baseball (3); Varsity Baseball, '23.

No doubt there are McKays and McKays, but there never was one like "Mickey." He is one of the members of his class who believes in "shining in the corner where he is"; be it on the diamond or seated before the throne of fickle fortune in the early hours of the morning. His care-free grin has made him more friends on the campus than many have made by dint of hard work, and we expect that "Mickey" will smile his way back to Duke, N. C., and thence through life in top-notch style.

The Class of 1923

TRUE history breathes and is a living thing. It is no dry record of happenings and events, it is manifest in the consciousness, the soul if you please, of a people. 'Twere but vain then to repeat the chronicle of things past in experience, for are they not writ on the consciousness, the soul—might we not say the spirit—of Davidson?

And yet there is a part of the chronicle that has not been told and it is the most glorious—the record of Twenty-Three in her Senior year. It is record for which we offer no apology—the record of a course that held steadily toward true achievement but a course, nevertheless, that at times wavered and seemed to wander afield. It is a record best eulogized by generalities, by noting the general tendencies.

It is a record of service: Of service to the college, where men labored and gave of their time, unhonored and unsung, that the prestige of a loved and honored college might increase. Of service on the gridiron, the court, the diamond and the cinder path, where men toiled and sweated and gave of their very best to add new laurels to the Wildcat's brow. Of service to the student body, where men worked far into the night that The Davidsonian, The Magazine, and Quips and Cranks might be. Of service to the underclasses, where men gave of their time, unstintingly, to the Student Council and the Court of Control.

The lesson taught has been 'that service to fellowman is man's second duty, the first being service to his Creator'—but, are they not after all but different manifestations of the same spirit? To serve, then, will be our watchword as we go out into Life. Serving Church and State and Humanity in the humble hope the world will be the better for our living.

Our's is a great task. Our Alma Mater has done her part, she has shown us the way. We go out now, and by the worth of our serving will she be judged. It is a precious heritage, the good name of old Davidson—it is a heritage to spur men to higher endeavor. The gauntlet is down, 'tis ours to decide; straight from the heart, the heart of Twenty-Three, comes the cry, the cry of glad acceptance.

Class Poem

Upon a hill in ancient Hellas stood
A youth, who turned about to see once more
The school wherein his growing self had been Directed, trained and led to manhood's state,
His quickened heart then moved him thus to speak:

"O blest academy, I owe thee much,
Unlearned alike in nature and mankind,
A plant extended roots which outward groped
Confused, I came to thee, My tendencies
Unordered; to myself, myself unknown.

"Thou didst receive me as a part of all;
Thus was I taught the unity of man
And my small sphere, But more, thou didst seek out
Mine inner self; fed right desires; didst make
Of me an individuality.

"Thou hast revealed to me the deeds, the thoughts
Of noble men; and, mounting these great minds,
A stairway to the stately towers of thought
From whence I now survey the universe
As kin to me in mind and heart and soul.

"My body physical thou hast upbuilt,
A temple and an instrument made fit
For all that thou wouldst have me do in life,
In contest thou hast given me a cause;
In tournament, a standard to uphold.

"Above all other gifts I value these Possessions priceless: friendships thou hast knit.
I've labored with my fellows with one aim,
And learned to temper my desires to theirs;
To give, to serve, to keep hard duty's tryst.

"By contact and by converse with thy sons
I have been moulded, tempered like a blade,
My mind made keen, my heart made resolute,
Till now the power within me lies to strike
For righteousness, for justice, and for truth.

"O blest academy, I owe thee much,
For thou hast taught me how to read and know
The souls with whom I share this present earth,
And thou hast taught me how to know myself.
This double knowledge is the key to life.

"Repaid in kind thy gifts can never be:
My offering shall be enduring love,
And such performance as shall bring thee praise,—
This do I pledge. I part from thee, the source
And mother of my larger usefulness."

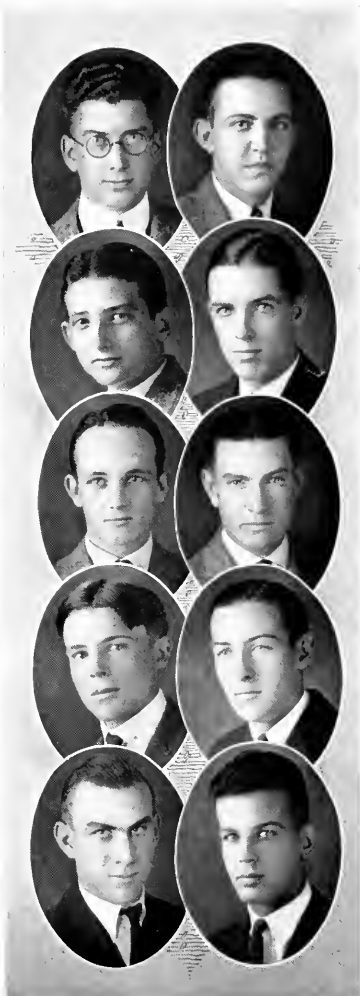

Thus spoke the youth, while in his breast hope, born
Of purpose high, contended with the pain,
Begotten of despondent severance,
He turned about and resolutely set
His footsteps toward the cities of mankind.

Junior Class History

HERE are four great stages in the life of the average individual: Babyhood, Youth, Manhood, Old Age. Each of these periods has its own importance and each successive period depends directly on those that have preceeded it. As favorable a comparison as can be made will be found in the history of a college class—each of the four years of college life representing the four great periods. Freshman, Babyhood; Sophomore, Youth; Junior, Manhood; Senior, Old Age.

The class of 1924 has, after much weather and storms, passed successfully through the periods of Babyhood and Youth and is now in the height of Manhood. It has reached a place where it has attained some degree of stability and efficiency and, thanks to the hard knocks received in the school of experience, we look back on our Babyhood and Youth with pride and to our Old Age with an expectancy and determination to put on the finishing touches and go into our professional or business careers with the same Spirit and drive that has characterized and brought us this far along the journey.

To briefly sum up our past life we will begin with BABYHOOD. Early September of 1920 saw us leave our happy homes and start for Davidson. Most of us arrived safely—thanks to the guiding care of upper classmen in many instances—and thought we had passed through the battle of Argonne before we finished the details of "signing-up" and hearing all the dope on the various professors (this dope generally came from old men who had previously flunked the course.) The next feature on the programme was growlie and even if they didn't have anything but grits and sweet potatoes we managed to do pretty well. Of course we had to have all the historical points of interest shown us and fall victims to those who sold shower bath tickets, fresh caps, taxes on radiators, etc. But soon we found that it was not necessary to doll-up and we fell into the old routine and custom of Davidson.

The most important event of our freshman year was the election of class officers. After much discussion the following men were selected either for ability or by political pull: M. D. Field, President; A. M. Hillhouse, Vice-President; G. R. Dupuy, Secretary; O. J. Allison, Historian; and D. B. Walthall, Poet.

The class of '24 made an enviable record in athletics the first year. Six men made their letter; Faison and Moore in football; Davis in basketball; Hunter in baseball; and Galloway and McBryde in track.

YOUTH: This period was characterized by a great deal of hard work due principally to the necessity of making 70 to pass instead of 60. But aside from the work several other notable features crept in.

The class officers for the Sophomore year were A. M. Hillhouse, President; E. S. Faison, Vice-President; J. W. DeArmon, Secretary; W. Z. Bradford, Historian; D. B. Walthall, Poet; and these men ably led the class through a successful year.

The burning of Chambers Hall is too vivid a memory to call forth any further discussion. Every one pictures it in his own way, and it would be poor policy to attempt to alter the individual feelings.

The Freshmen were respectfully and respectively inducted into all the mysteries of college life. Notwithstanding the efforts of a few to practically abolish that time-honored institution the Sophomore Banquet was held. That Banquet was "jake"!!

At the close of the year upon checking up we find the following men awarded the coveted D. Faison, Moore, Clarke, Davis, Field in football; Davis in basketball; McBride and Galloway in track; while in baseball Boushee broke into the limelight by ably filling the job of pitcher.

MANHOOD: We have just entered on this most interesting period of our college career. So far, the football season shows seven men of '24 boasting a varsity letter. They are DeArmon, Cox, Field, Davis, Clarke, Faison, Moore. But aside from athletics the class has distinguished itself along literary lines, in campus activities, assistantships and a few have even perched on the Honor Roll. Great things have been accomplished and still greater things lie ahead of us, for we still have to experience that last and final period of our college life, Old Age. The period that really finishes us and puts on the little fixtures that prepare us for our life work. May we complete the cycle and leave a record that shows the class of twenty-four faithful to her ideals, her high purpose, herself, her Alma Mater and her Maker.

D. S. P.

The Sun of Twenty-Four

The sun of twenty-four rose from behind
 The hallowed walls of Chambers that so kind
 A spirit cast on all around. Our noon,
 Saw Chambers gone. Our evening will come soon.
 May we not hope to see at close of day
 A newer Chambers lighted by the ray
 Of our declining sun?

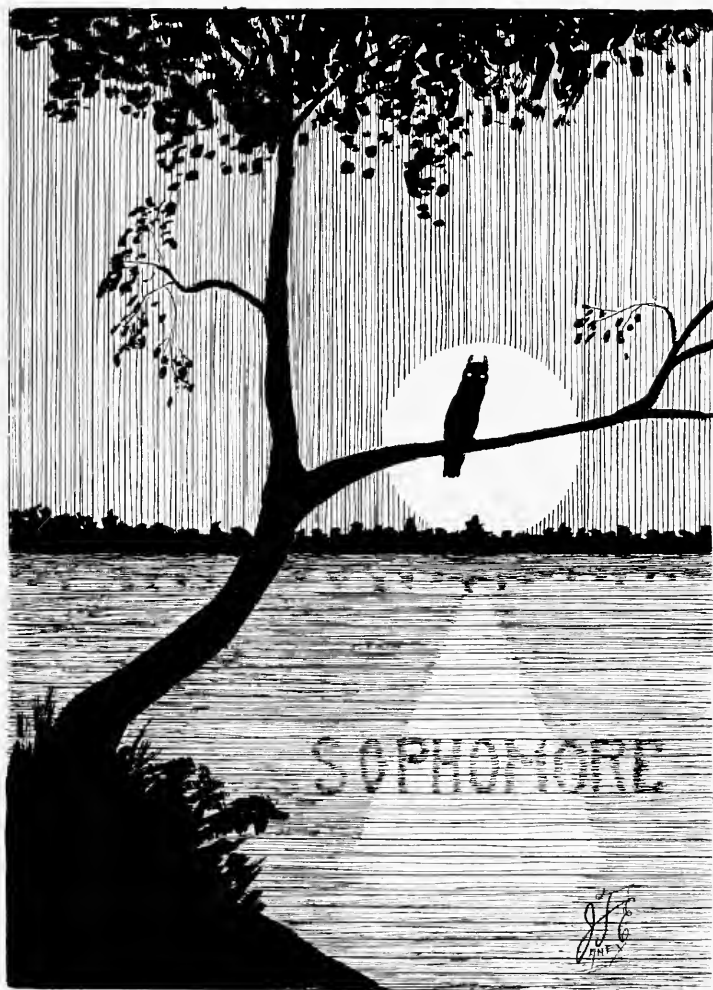

Life can neither be all sunshine nor all showers,
 And though we've seen some gray, drear, cloudy hours,
 May we not hope the rainbow in the West
 Betokens that the hours to come are best,
 And that the eve of our day here will find
 The class of twenty-four each one aligned,
 United for old Davidson.

All days must end, and ours is nearly done:
 But can we rest on laurels that we've won?
 Is not it far more meet to ponder how
 In the few hours that are left to us now
 We may some service do that in the days
 To come will leave its trace and sometimes raise
 A memory of twenty-four?

We now can see the ending of our quest,
 But joys possessed are only second best,
 And when we've gained our most desired goal,
 A higher, grander one will then unfold;
 And though our sun is near its setting here,
 'Tis but a night—another dawn is near,
 A brighter one for twenty-four.

W. F. GALLAWAY, '24.

History of the Class of '25

REATHES there a man with soul so dead who can forget the dates September 7 and 8, 1921? And why should he remember those two Autumn days? There is a reason. Those were the good old days when the Class of '25 first stepped from the Jaybird Special and set foot on dry land at Davidson, North Carolina. One hundred and ninety-five strong, we were; we, the Class of '25. And when some of us had procured taxis to convey us "away out" to the college, and the less fortunate had decided to walk, we began to take cognizance of the city of Davidson. There was the street, there were the stores, and yonder a little knot of citizens conversed in low tones while the other inhabitant busily rested from his labors on the iron steps by the drug store.

As we entered the campus, Old Chambers reared its cupola in dignity above our heads and the wind softly whispered in the tree-tops at our approach. And thus began our life at Davidson College.

Our Freshman year was a dream. Guided in the proper paths by the persuasive efforts of the upper classes, we soon caught the spirit of the college, and here are some of the things we did:

Letters were awarded the following men of the Class of '25 in their Freshman year: Basketball: Mallory, Beall; Baseball: McPherson, Pritchett, McMillan; Track: Gracey, McComb.

Not only did the Class of '25 become distinguished in athletics, but her members upheld the honor of their class in all branches of college life and activities. Where else can be found a greater "stud" than Trawick? And Trawick does not stand alone, for we are proud of our other Honor Roll men—Caldwell, McIlwaine and Price. The Class of '25 likewise furnished men who distinguished themselves in Davidsonian, Magazine, and Literary Society work.

Near the close of the first term, the Freshman class officers had been elected: President, J. B. Hendrix; Vice-President, J. M. Pleasants; Secretary and Treasurer, J. M. Milhous; Poet, W. W. Purdy; and Class Historian, H. B. Price. All were men of great ability, and did honor to their class.

We embarked upon our Sophomore year under the following leadership: President, Beall; Vice-President, Lake; Secretary and Treasurer, Milhous. During our Sophomore year we have been carrying on the work begun in our Freshman year. Although a complete record of the work done by the Class of '25 during their Sophomore year cannot be had before this history appears, everything seems to indicate that it will be a record of which each member may be justly proud.

In football, letters have already been awarded to Hunt, Hendrix, and Mallory; and in basketball to Staley, Boggs, and Beall. Twenty-five furnished a member of the debating team which met Washington and Lee in December, 1922—D. B. Wharton. Members of the class are daily making a reputation for the college in Baseball, Wrestling, Track and Tennis teams.

Half of our race is run. Some of our number have fallen by the wayside. A few have failed, but the majority are headed for that goal marked success. And why should we not succeed?

J. E.

Class Poem

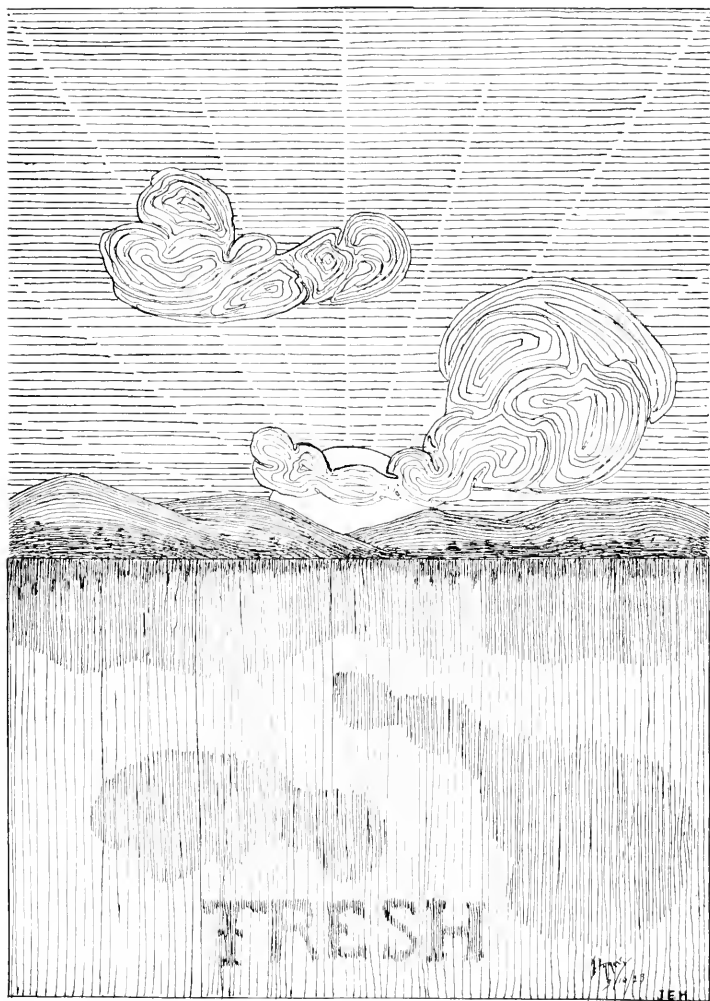

Twenty-five, we rise to hail thee!
Sweet we hold thy name;
Deeply shall we ever love thee,
Loud thy praise proclaim.

Ever onward, Twenty-five!
Falter not nor fail;
At the goal success awaits thee,
Hail to thee, all hail!

Twenty-five, to D. C. faithful
Through the passing years;
Stronger grow the ties that bind us
As our parting nears.

Twenty-five! O rise to greet her;
Rise, each loyal son!
Be for her your treasured trophies,
All your laurels won.

History of the Class '26

SEPTEMBER 12th and 13th saw the arrival into Davidson of 220 students-to-be. The "Jaybird Special" thundered into the magnificent terminal station, weary with its heavy burden. When "Davidson" was called out by the porter, many trembling hands were seen to travel forth toward suit-cases, many glances were furtively cast in the direction of those who seemed confident, and trembling with what was before them the "green" ones put forth on Davidson soil. As if by magic, a universal advent was made to the Commissary, where new head-pieces were thrust upon us. We received them dubiously and little realized into just what precarious positions they would lead us. Someone evidently thought we were endowed with great riches, for forthwith we set out to register, and soon found ourselves parting with our wealth with longing glances and fond caresses.

Thus embarked the Class of '26 upon its career, the destiny of which remains a mystery. We came from 13 States, the District of Columbia, and Japan. We were indeed an "assortment," ranging in height from five feet (barefooted) to six feet three inches (in our stocking feet). Our avoirdupois sinks to the depth of 99 7-8 pounds, and rises to the zenith of 340 pounds and 4 ounces.

The accomplishments of the Class of '26 are well known. In the never-to-be-forgotten V. P. I.-Davidson gridiron battle honor was showered down upon the Freshman class when one of our members carried the pigskin across the last white line and kicked goal, tying V. P. I. Again we would point you to the grapplers, and in the wrestling line one of our members has held high the banner of the class. On the diamond we have representatives who have proven their worth, and two, if not three, will receive letters. The track has found numerous members of our class out for honors, and some have made the team.

Many of the class have been lined up with clubs and literary societies, and the future of the class in a literary way is indeed bright. Two of our number made the Honor Roll and several missed it by a hair's-breadth.

The epoch-making event of the year was the establishing of the Board of Control, which brought with it the permanent banishment of hazing. This system was tried for three months, and when the permanent vote was cast it stood three to one for abolishment. When advocates of the "poodle" saw that hazing had become a thing of the past, they made the vote unanimous. Since that time well-known expressions have come to the forefront, such as, "We let no grass grow under our feet," "We live and let live," and future generations, as it has been aptly expressed, "Will have to thank the Board of Control that they have a seat to sit upon."

The pilots of the class for the past year have been: N. E. Sappenfield, President; J. A. McMillan, Jr., Vice-President; C. E. Houston, Jr., secretary-treasurer. At a recent meeting the following were selected as Soph officers: E. E. Baker, C. E. Monk, and E. K. Regen.

Just what lays before members of the class remains to be seen. Every walk of life will go forth from the portals of Davidson College when the Class of '26 ends its college career, and the members will continue to uphold the honor, principles and ideals for which our Alma Mater stands.

W. E. MILTON.

Class '26 Poem

We would not care to choose the middle way
Of Life's broad paths—duty, right, and wrong,
Where countless thousands tread from day to day
And spend their lives in fruitless search, and long.

No roseate pathways seek we in our far,
Long journey to that destined time and place;
Nor would we be content, our lives to mar,
That we may rise victorious from the race.

May we avoid the time-worn way of all
Who sought to win the goal by means unfair,
And shape our lives by one who left a call
To service, and a burden we must bear.

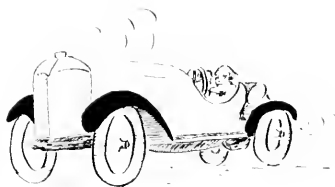

This class of brothers, one in hope and love,
With eyes upturned toward Truth's and Wisdom's light;
May we, united, keep the torch above,
And come at last triumphant from the fight.

As comrades in a common cause may we
Be closer bound by Friendship's tender charm,
Until we stand beside Life's ebbing sea
And meet our maker, smiling, arm in arm.

CONRAD FREDERICK SMITH.

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

14th—550 of the "Flower of Southern culture and training" start coming in.

17th—Buchanan and Sloan came tearing in from "06", driving the famous "five-dollar car." "Miss Minnie" mistakes them for tramps.

23rd—Elon O Davidson

29th—And it came to pass that the Wildcats did journey down into the country of the Palmettos, even unto Clinton, to do battle against their ancient enemy P. C. But their jinx did remain on them and tho they did wax mighty against the warriors of P. C., they were nevertheless defeated 8 to 7. And there was wailing and gnashing of teeth in the camp of the Wildcats from Rimple even unto East.

30th—Freshman on hearing of "the Gullies" for the first time, wants to know if the walk from the Armory to Eu Hall is one of them.

28th—Trinity, 12; Davidson, 0. Shucks! We didn't wanta see the game nohow.

OCTOBER

7th—Wildcats meet Golden Tornado on muddy field. Tech is lucky to get her 10 points.

10th—First reports go out and letters from home begin to come back!

14th—The Student Body goes down to see Wake Forest get licked, but Heckman pulls off a long pass and ties us 6 to 6.

21st—V. P. I. came down expecting a walk-away, but what they got was a runaway (Red Laird doing the runnings with the ball under his arm).

24th—It is announced that no excuses will be issued to go to Greensboro for the Trinity game. Mad rush to Absence Committee room, then to infirmary ententein exelaunei hos takistas to the telegraph office, but all to no avail.

NOVEMBER

- 10th—Mid-term reports go out.
- 11th—The Terriers go down before the Wildcats. Davidson takes Charlotte.
- 18th—"Bill" Fetzner's "wonder team" downs the sons of McDavid, 29 to 6.
- 30th—Thanksgiving Day. Senior Speaking begins and Senior Derbies appear.
Furman Davidson
- 10th—Zera returns from the jungles of Iowa.

FOOTBALL

CAPTAIN J. S. MOORE Fullback D

The midget Wildcat leader was handicapped at the first of the season by malaria but in the last games struck his old stride and was a terror to the opposition. End runs and off-tackle plays are his specialty, but he is an accurate receiver of forward passes, and can tear through the line for a couple of yards when they are needed. On the defense, Spratt is equally feared. He never misses a tackle and diagnoses his opponents' play with uncanny ability.

J. C. McMASTERS Tackle D

Big Mac, who first won a letter on the long-to-be-remembered 1917 team, returned to college last fall after an absence of two years to help in bolstering up the thin Red line. Mac's experience made him a valuable man last fall and his weight bore the brunt of many a hard drive. Although not as fast as he once was, he has played his position as only a veteran can, and his absence will be missed when the grid candidates report in September.

S. M. DAVIS Guard D

Sam Davis, the best all-round linesman at Davidson, played at end his Freshman year, at tackle for two years, and at guard last season. At every position he has starred and his "never-say-die" spirit has always kept the team fighting when victory seemed hopeless. This year Sam finished a grid career which will long be remembered at Davidson. An operation during the summer kept him from being in the best physical condition last fall, but it failed to stop his determination and fight.

W. S. SHEPHERD Halfback D

For the third season Gig starred on the Wildcat offense and closed the season by playing the greatest game of his career against Furman. His end runs, off-tackle drives, forward passing, punting and place kicking turned the Furman game into a gripping contest, when the Purple Hurricane expected an easy victory. As an all-round back, Gig is without a peer, and his return next fall insures the Wildcats a versatile attack.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

R. M. BRICE

Center

D*

Throughout the past season, Marion Brice has filled the position of center to the queen's taste. Brice is a hard-working, steady player and always put his best into the game. He was a reliable passer and playing roving center made tackle after tackle. No one could back up the line better than Marion, and on off-tackle plays and end runs by the opponents he was sure to be the last man to get up.

G. B. SORRELLS

D*

Bascom is the man who instilled the pep and fight into the Wildcat line. Nobody was able to run over him and he never let up, even when injured. In the game with V. P. I. he had his finger broken but refused to get it bound until the Gobblers had been held for four downs and the ball went over to Davidson on the one yard line. George has played his last game for the Red and Black, but his spirit which said, "The word 'impossible' is not in the Wildcat vocabulary," remains.

C. M. DAVIS

End

D*

Nappy played on the Wildcat flank for the second season and proved himself to be one of the best receivers of forward passes developed on Sprunt Field in many a year. His record includes touchdowns against Carolina and Furman with two others thrown in for good measure. On the defense he was dependable and played the game of his life against V. P. I. Nappy has two more years before him so the Wildcat wings will be well guarded next season.

CAPT.-ELECT E. S. FAISON

D

For the third season 'Lias starred on the right flank and was chosen to lead the Wildcats through the 1923 season. He was an important factor in the strong defense which the team exhibited and on account of his wonderful work in the V. P. I. game was selected as All-State end by many close observers of the game. Faison is also a dependable man on the offense, but it is in defensive play that he stars most often. No one could make a better or more popular leader than 'Lias.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

W. J. MARTIN, JR. Halfback D

Although ineligible against S. I. A. A. teams, Bill Joe proved to be one of the greatest backs who ever donned the Red and Black jerseys. He was a fighter in every sense of the word, and with his fighting spirit had the necessary skill. His terrible line smashing was sensational but his greatest value lay in his beautiful defensive work. He was a wonder at backing up the line and his punting was sensational.

L. W. DICK Quarterback D

Leonard Dick was the smallest man on the team, but what he lacked in size he made up for, in speed and headwork. He ran like a flash and ran his team like an old head. Dick finishes this year but leaves behind him a name as a hard worker who despite handicaps which would have stopped most men, made the team. If Leonard could have added 20 pounds and two inches, he would make a second Bo McMillin.

W. T. LONG Guard D

Long is one of the fighting type of linesmen who keep the regulars on the jump for their places, all the time. Ideally built for a guard he succeeded in stopping most of the plays directed at him. His hard earned letter came as a result of two years of hard work on the gridiron. For the past two years he has been one of the outstanding Wildcat stars against Georgia Tech.

C. M. CLARK Tackle D*

Montague and Big Mac held down the tackle positions, and the two 185 pounders made a good showing. It was Montague who broke up a punt leading to the Red and Black's touch-down against Wake Forest and it was he who broke up the place kick which would have given the Baptists a one point victory. Big and aggressive, Montague has an ideal build for a tackle and will be at his old position next year.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

M. D. FIELDS

Center D*

Large of build and possessing a powerful drive, Mason held down center of the line with Brice. A game knee handicaps Fields but he fights as long as he is in the game. On the offense he plays a bang-up game. His passing is always accurate, and when the backs start on an end run they are always sure that Mason will lead them just right. Mason returns next year and great things are expected from him.

J. C. HUNT

Halfback D

Popsy's pile-driving tactics carried him through the line last season and whenever a couple of yards were needed for a first down, it was Popsy who carried the ball and gained the distance with a yard or so to spare. Seldom did this human battering ram fail to gain on line bucks and he ran interference equally well. John also was an adept at receiving and intercepting forward passes.

J. P. HENDRIX

Quarterback D

A harder worker than Jim cannot be found, and he ran his team well last season. Although playing his first year as a regular, he showed up well in all departments of the game. He worked his aerial attack with especial success and his passes featured every game. Jim is a Soph this year and has two more years to run the team and get away on the sweeping end runs for which he is famous.

W. M. COX

Tackle D

Although Warren was handicapped by his light weight (under 150 pounds) his fighting spirit was good for 20 pounds and when there was not too much difference in weight he always got the best of the argument. Never was there a more aggressive player. Whenever Cox left the game his face showed that he had been in the thick of the fight. Warren is coming back this fall and with more weight and experience will do wonders.

QUIPS AND CRANKS ~1923

J. W. DeARMON

Halfback D

The Red and Black Machine was one unit against V. P. I. but if any man on the team deserves honor it is Doc. He made his letter in that game and if he had not played another minute of the season he would deserve it, for no one could make more tackles or stop more plays in one game than Doc did. Although one of his ribs was broken in the first half he stuck in the game until the last of the third quarter. Doc will be back spilling more runners this fall.

D. F. MALLORY

End D

Mallory, the third end had a hard time breaking into the game with both Nappy and 'Lias on the job, but whenever he got the chance he showed his ability both on offense and defense. His particular hobby was snagging passes and in the Wake Forest game he gained 70 yards by the aerial route. Dan has two more years in which to guard the Wildcat flank and has the makings of a great end.

W. H. MOORE

End

The scrubs make the Varsity. Ever since entering college Wallace has been out making someone work for his place at end. His last year with no chance for a letter he has still come out and sweated for three long months to help in the building of a team. Wallace has done great work on the Scrub team and while not of Varsity calibre has done his share for the Red and Black.

J. L. McLAURIN

Halfback

Mac is another Senior who has worked hard on the gridiron. Short and stocky, his powerful drive makes him a valuable man for a couple of yards. Mac got in the game against the Golden Tornado and gave a good account of himself. Mac has worked hard and given the letter men a run for their positions. We are sorry he won't be back to help out next fall.

QUIPS AND CRANKS-1923

H. H. SMITH

Manager D

Hugh played the managerial role perfectly and gave the team good trips, also making it possible for the students to see the majority of the games. Hugh was popular everywhere and deserves great credit for the efficient manner in which he handled the business end of the season. He arranged a well-balanced schedule with teams from Virginia to Georgia.

R. L. McLEOD

Cheer Leader D

Bob was the man who instilled the pep into the students and led the yelling at the games. He was always on the job, and proved an efficient noise-maker, for when no one else had any pep left he made enough noise for the whole student body. Genial and pleasant, no more popular man could have been elected to the position. It was a pleasure to yell with Bob leading.

Football Resume

WITH ten letter men back this year the prospects for a successful football season seemed bright indeed, but before the end of October the records showed that "things are not always what they seem." The Wildcats didn't seem to get together. Man for man they were as good as the next one, but they lost game after game because their opponents worked like machines and made the utmost of their gains, while the Red and Black would plow up and down the field only to be stopped before they could get the necessary points. No doubt the setbacks by Wake Forest and Trinity may be partially accounted for as the natural results of the terrific strain of those great fights against Georgia Tech and V. P. I., but that doesn't account for the losses to P. C. and N. C. State. Two games were won, two tied, and six lost; but anyone who saw the Wildcats in action know that that is not the true measure of their ability. The tie with V. P. I. was worth a couple of ordinary victories alone.

Although the Wildcats didn't break many records in games won they set a record in upsetting dope that will stand for many a year to come. In the defeats by Trinity and P. C. and the tie by Wake Forest the Red and Black did not play up to form, but in the Furman and Georgia Tech and V. P. I. games the Wildcats split the dope all over the opposition.

In the first game of the season on Sprunt Field the Wildcats trimmed Elon, 24-0. The issue of the game was never in doubt, but frequent fumbles and substitutions kept the Red and Black from running up a bigger score. Davidson made 20 first downs while the Christians couldn't negotiate the distance a single time.

For an opening game the Elon fray had been fairly promising but the following Friday, at Clinton, the P. C. Blue Stockings upset all the dope in the Carolinas and defeated Coach Grey's warriors 8-7. A safety and a touchdown in the third period won the game for the South Carolinians. The ball was in P. C.'s territory most of the game but the final punch was lacking and Hunt was the only man who could gain consistently.

Next week came the inevitable trip to Atlanta and Georgia Tech. For several seasons the score had mounted higher and higher, but the Wildcats went to Atlanta with blood in their eyes and a determination to redeem themselves for the Clinton disaster. The impossible happened and the score swung down from 70-0 in 1921 to 19-0 in 1922. Every Wildcat covered himself with glory, and after the first twenty minutes of play the heavy Tech backs found the thin Red line impregnable. Davidson played a defensive game that will live in the memory of Grant Field. Spratt Moore and "Red" Laird in particular did brilliant work for Davidson. The game was played in a sea of mud that slowed things up considerably.

The reaction from the terrific fight in Atlanta followed and in the Wake Forest game at Charlotte the Wildcats showed a complete reversal of form. The Red and Black made twelve first downs to five for the Baptists, but as in the P. C. game the old punch was lacking and Shepherd's dash for a touchdown in the first quarter ended the scoring for Davidson. In the last quarter Heckman tied things up with a long pass to Johnny Johnson, and the Wildcats trailed home with a 6-6 tie.

The next Saturday Davidson fought with her back against the wall in a fierce battle with V. P. I., the near-conquerors of Centre. Tradition has it that no Davidson eleven has lost a game on Sprunt Field for the last ten years, and the Red and Black, outweighed 20 pounds to the man fought doggedly to keep up that tradition. V. P. I. plunged down the field time after time, but in the shadow of their goal-posts the Wildcats were impregnable. Nobody will ever forget "Red" Laird's run for a touchdown. The score was 7-7; a great game between two fighting teams.

The less said about the Trinity game the better. Trinity was a newcomer on the Davidson schedule, and the Greensboro game proved them worthy foemen. The Wildcats had made some changes in their signals and weren't in smooth running shape. All we can say is that Trinity clearly outplayed us and won, 12-0.

Over at Raleigh the next Saturday the Wildeats dropped another contest to N. C. State, 15-0. Lady Luck, Bobby Long, an ex-Davidson star told the tale. After seeing two sure marches down the field turned into State tallies on fumbles, the Wildeats fought on and threatened to reverse things in the final stanza. Spratt Moore was back in shape and played a great game for the Red and Black.

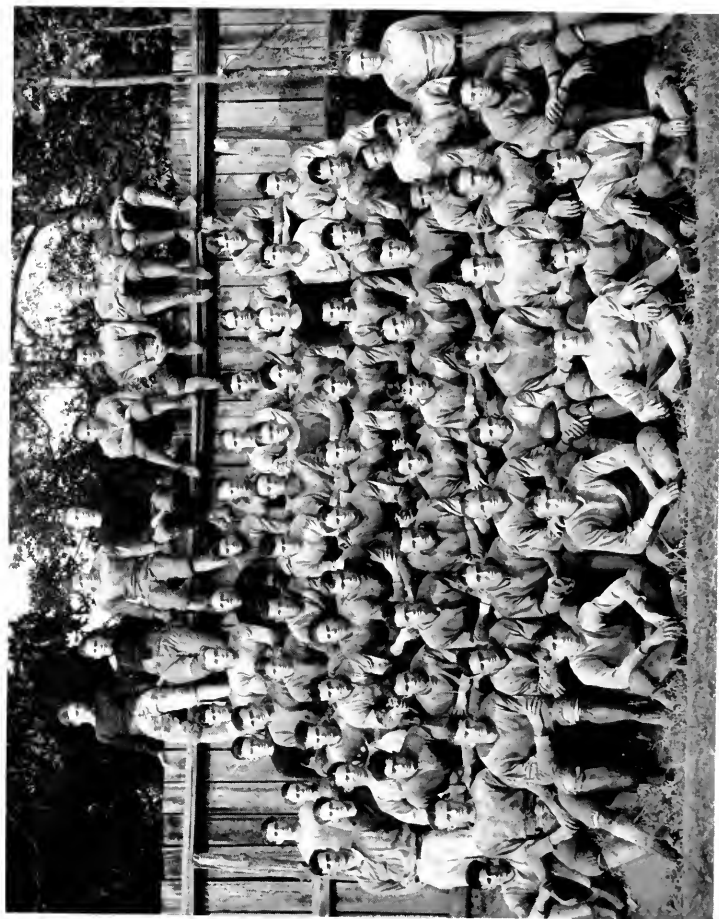

The next game in Charlotte was a Davidson victory that broke into the discouraging list of defeats. Wolford was turned in on the short end of a 34-0 score in a game that was marked by slow football on both sides. The Wildeats were evidently saving themselves for the Carolina game.

Carolina had a team that was undefeated in the South and the dope ran true to form when they crushed the Red and Black, 29-0. The Tarheels had a great team, versatile on the offense and steady when the opposition had the ball. The final period found the Davidsonians still scrapping and a pass, Hendrix to Davis resulted in a well-deserved touchdown. It was the first time that Carolina had been able to win a victory over Davidson since 1910.

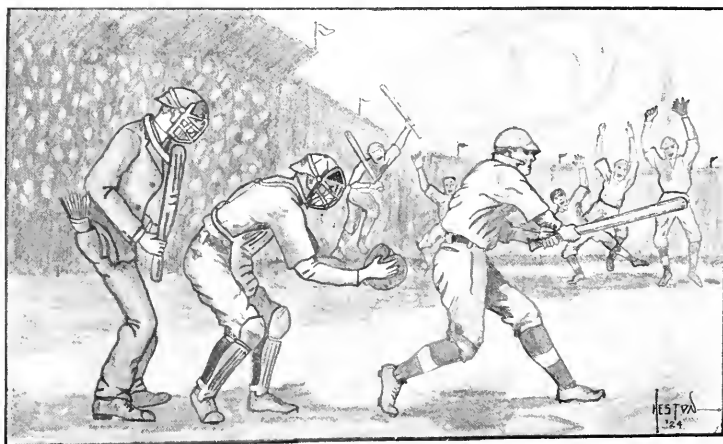

The final game of the season was in Greenville with Furman as an opponent. Davidson lost, 13-10, but the game was a corker. Shepherd was the bright light in the Wildcat offense, and time after time rushed the Furman line for long gains. A pass, Hendrix to Davis, again accounted for the Davidson touchdown. The game with the Purple Hurricane closed the career of McMasters, Sam Davis, Brice, Bascolm Sorrels, and Spratt Moore.

CLUBS AND CRANKS - 1923

BASEBALL

T. A. FREEMAN, Capt. Third Base D*

Archie was one of those quiet, unobtrusive fellows, that didn't make much noise on the diamond but fill their position well just the same. He played a few games in the outfield but the larger portion of the season saw the Steel Creek lad in action around third. Archie's hard work and steady good humor made him a good captain and example for his squad.

C. G. BROWN Fielder D*

Grady Brown won his letter last year, and was back again this season to cavort around right field. A dependable man in the outer gardens and a steady, if not a hard bitter, Grady was quite an asset to the Red and Black squad.

R. M. BRICE Pinch Hitter and Fielder D

Brice was the sort of man that is needed on every team; the man that can come to the bat just when a hit is needed and he counted on to deliver that hit. Brice was a wonder at doing this very thing, and his work in that department, coupled with several games when he played in the field, won him his letter. Besides being a pinch hitter and a good fielder, Marion is a catcher of no mean ability.

C. R. CRAWFORD First Base D

Pat Crawford was the mainstay of the Wildcats at the bat and on the initial corner. This was Pat's third year with the team, and it is saying a lot to declare that he played better than ever before. Pat is as much at home on the diamond as he is on the basketball court, and that means he is pretty much at home. Crawford is captain-elect for next year.

C. V. McMILLIAN

Catcher

D

The Wildcats were certainly lucky to get a man like Vance to fill the place Sim Wrenn left vacant. His work in molding three creditable pitchers out of the green material on hand was nothing short of remarkable. A steady man behind the bat, and a slugger on the offensive, McMillan was undoubtedly one of the most valuable men on any college team in the state.

G. B. SORRELLS

Pitcher

D

Bascolm Sorrells—accent on the last syllable, if you please—was the Davidsons' port-side hurler. Last year he won his fame in the class series and this season found him fitting into a Varsity uniform. Bascolm always had the fight, and his work in the pinches was worth watching.

LUKE ERWIN

Short Stop

D

Luke started off the season in center-field, but later he was shifted in to hold down the important territory around short. He had been a sprinter on the track team the year before and was fast enough to gather in anything that came his way. Luke was a hard man to pitch to and his specialty was trotting down to first on four balls.

MALCOLM ERWIN

Second Base

D

Malcolm was the other one of the Erwin tribe to land a position in the Wildcat infield this year. He got all his practice tossing balls around in the back lots of Honca Path, and he was almost fast enough to keep up with his brother. At bat he had it on Luke somewhat. Neither Luke nor Malcolm were very large, but when it came to baseball they were big enough to handle any of them.

QUIPS AND CRANKS - 1923

F. D. McLEOD

Fielder

D

"Hunky" McLeod was the Red and Black's hard-hitting outfielder. The lad from Red Springs grabbed on to anything that came within grabbing distance, and came near raking in many a hit that was clearly out of his reach. He was even better at bat than in the field. "Nuf sed.

E. E. BOUSHEE

D

"Boush" was perhaps the steadiest man that the Wildcats had in the box last year. When he first appeared on the diamond Boushee needed a lot of practice, but Coach Hengeveld got hold of him and the big boy pitched more than one remarkable game before the season closed. From all reports his battle against the famous Jewellin, of Carolina, must have been a corker.

R. L. PRITCHETT

Center Field

D

"Pritch" was the sort of man that always does the unexpected, but always does it at the right time. Sometimes he was erratic when he played short at the beginning of the season, but more than once he would redeem the game he had apparently thrown away in the field by a smashing double or triple at the bat. Pritchett found his real place in the field and garnered in many a ball that seemed to be labeled a hit.

McPHERSON

D

"Red" was the third of the Davidson hurlers to win the "D" this year. This elongated piece of slab machinery was a trifle wild at times, but always steadied down in the pinches. "Red" was just a Freshman, and when he has another season to steady him and give him a bit more experience, he will be an asset to any team.

Baseball Summary

With only Crawford, Brown and Captain Freeman as a nucleus for a team, Coach Hengeveld had his task cut out for him. That the season was the success that it was is largely due to the hard work put in by all the members of the team and to the fighting spirit instilled by Coach Hengeveld and Captain Freeman. Sixteen games were played, resulting in eight victories and eight defeats.

After an initial game with the County League All-Stars that was more or less of the practice variety, the Wildcats were ready for the opening of the season. The first games, as usual, were in the nature of a two-day engagement with Oak Ridge. In the first game both teams garnered six hits, but Shields won his pitching battle from Boushee, due to better support. Score: Oak Ridge 2, Davidson 1. The next afternoon timely and hard hitting coupled with Sorrell's superb work in the box, gave the Red and Black an ample revenge in the shape of a 12-4 victory. The improvement in the Wildcat hitting made the prospects for a successful season considerably brighter.

The next game, with Erskine, again found Davidson with her eye on the ball, and Letty Beard, the South Carolinian's pitching ace, was pounded all over the lot for 17 hits. Everybody in the regular Wildcat line-up got at least one bingle. Erskine also hit hard, but the Davidson twirlers tightened up in the pinches, and the result was a 11-7 win.

The Wake Forest game that followed was probably the best on the home grounds. After fighting six innings to a scoreless tie, Wake Forest broke the ice, only to be bested by the Wildcats in the last of the ninth. The Baptists had been doped to clean up, but when the smoke of battle cleared away the score was 5-4, in Davidson's favor. The work of Crawford, who handled 17 chances without an error, on first, and of Boushee, in the box, were the features for Davidson.

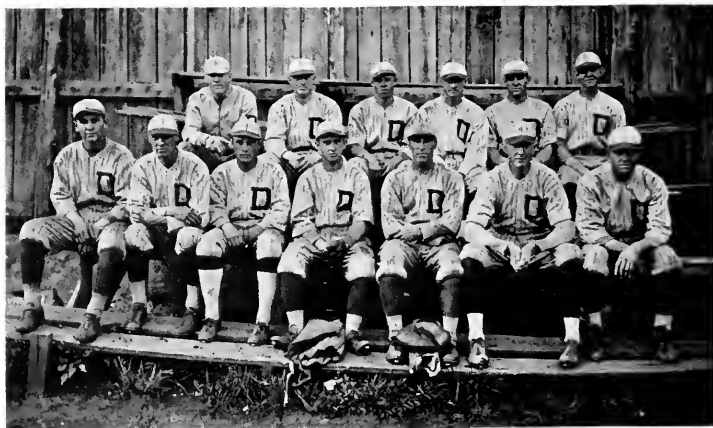

The next game found the Wildcats in Winston-Salem, where their stock depreciated considerably as the result of a 9-0 victory for Trinity. Insufficient warming up before the game accounts in some measure for the disaster to Davidson's championship hopes. Returning to Davidson, the Red and Black met Catawba on Thursday of the same week, and after being held for seven innings at the mercy of Gibson, Catawba's star twirler, the Wildcats found themselves in the eighth and pounded out six runs. The final score was 6-4. Saturday was the occasion of another loss for Coach Hengeveld's charges. After playing State a fine game for five innings, they went up in the sixth and A. & E. walked off with a 9-2 victory.

The next week found the Wildcats on the road. In the first game, at Chapel Hill, the champion Tar-Heels nosed out a 2-0 win in a great game. Though Davidson lost, it was probably her best exhibition of the season. Boushee pitched air-tight ball, but the Wildcats couldn't hit in the pinches, and the game was lost. At Raleigh State won a thrilling return game, 5-3. Davidson led until the seventh, when State snatched it away. The game at Wake Forest was the most unusual one of the season. Wake Forest made ten runs in the fourth, knocking all the Wildcat hurlers all over the lot. But then the Davidson "never-say-die spirit" was clearly shown. Fighting under an awful handicap, the Wildcats gradually crept up, and won the encounter with five runs in the last frame. The affair at Elon was also a slugging match, the Red and Black getting 17 hits. The score was 9-8, Davidson on the long end.

The succeeding trip into the Palmetto State proved disastrous to the Davidsons. After an easy 4-1 victory over Wofford, the Fates deserted the Red and Black and Furman and Clemson won games by the margin of a single point: 3-2 and 4-3. A victory over Elon in a ragged game closed the season.

BASKETBALL

G. W. MAUZE*Center and Captain*D

Serving his second year on the quintette, "Warhoss" played some wonderful basketball this year. He outjumped every center that faced him, covered the whole court on defense, and led his team in scoring. Mauze's favorite position for shooting a goal is in the air, about three feet above the floor—a sure shot, at that. The team and students were glad to hear of Warhoss's decision to come back next year.

C. R. CRAWFORDGuard*D*

In his third year on the Wildcat team, Pat's work was decidedly of a stellar nature. Long shots from the center of the court are his specialty, and their success is attested by the fact that he roped more field goals than any other man on the squad. The Irishman's place will be a hard one to fill next year.

C. M. DAVISGuard*D*

For two years "Nappy" has been about the hardest fighting member of the Wildcat five. This year he served at center, guard, or forward, as needed, and performed brilliantly at every post. Nappy is fast, and his favorite stunt is dribbling the length of the court, through the whole defending team. He has been chosen to guide the Wildcats as captain for the '24 season,—which makes the next season's prospects very bright.

F. LAIRDForward*D

"Red's" first year on the quintette was by no means an ordinary one. He had such an easy-going way about dropping the pill into the loop that some spectators were wont to call him lucky. Whether it was luck or science, Red ranked third in scoring ability during the '23 season, according to the score-keeper's record. Flake has three more years at Davidson, in which time he ought to develop into a star of first quality.

Forward

D*

"Mac" tossed the sphere through the leather strings for his second season, displaying a splendid grade of fast ball. Mac is light in weight, but fast, and his aim at the basket is mighty good. He can always be depended upon to give the enemy all he has. Mac has two more seasons on the hardwood court and the future is sure to hold bright things for him.

S. W. BOGGS

D

"Sook" was the hardest problem for the opponents to solve in attacking the Wildcat's goal. His defense was so stubborn and impregnable that many an attempt at his end of the court was turned back unsuccessful. His hard fighting contributed to the success of the Red and Black quintette no less than did the scoring of his team-mates. A great future can be predicted for "Sook" in his two remaining years at Davidson.

T. F. STALEY

D

Staley rose to prominence this year, and held down a forward's position like a veteran. A fighter from the first toss-up, he covered a lot of territory, kept the opposing guard guessing, and turned the ball loose from any angle for a couple of points. Tom has two more years on the team and ought to be a wonder before leaving Davidson.

J. H. McCONNELL

D

"Spec" was called in to fill a position at guard many times during the season, and his work was always of the highest type. He fought hard, breaking up countless advances of the opponents, and upholding the old Wildcat reputation. "Spec" has one more year on the team, and it ought to develop him into a star.

Basketball Chronicle

RETROSPECTIVE glance at the 1923 basketball season, just ended for the Wildcats, shows a record of 9 victories out of 17 games played, leaving 8 defeats by all opponents. A more careful study of the dope, however, reveals the fact that Davidson scored a total of 504 points against 463 by her opponents. In view of this evidence and the close scores by which several games were lost, it seems the breaks were against the Red and Black.

On their own court, with backs to the wall and claws bared, the Wildcats fought so bravely that only two teams carried away victories from Davidson's gym. The brilliant little five from Guilford College was the only team which won two games from the Red and Black quintet during the season, the Quakers winning at Guilford and at Davidson. Elon was the only other invader fortunate enough to get away with a game on D. C.'s court. In this instance the Wildcats were handicapped by the crippled condition of their captain, and without his leadership they failed to hit their usual stride.

Starting off with the old-time fighting spirit, the Red and Black machine invaded Charlotte and brought back the bacon from the Y. M. C. A. team, 36 to 20. The "Y" tried their luck again on Davidson's court and went down to the tune of 38 to 32. N. C. State was easily taken into camp, 21 to 8, on the home court, and over in Concord a scrappy Y. M. C. A. team was snowed under, 35 to 28. Then the tide turned. At Charlotte, Trinity met and checked the triumphant march of the Wildcat five. Simpson, Trinity's great forward, was the outstanding figure in the Methodist's victory. The score was 39 to 27.

Wofford and Concord "Y" were met and scalped on the home court, Wofford carrying away the small end of a 37 to 12 score, the Concord team losing 37 to 21. The star of hope again burned brightly above the Red and Black banner, but a trip to four North Carolina colleges dashed such hopes on the rocks of disappointment.

On their tour through the Tar-Heel State the Wildcats' field goals equalled or surpassed their opponents' scoring from the floor in every game, but fouls were frequent and costly—costly to the extent of three games out of the four. State wreaked vengeance for her recent defeat by Davidson, nosing out a 26 to 22 win. Wake Forest found herself in possession of a five-point lead when the final shot was fired, with 29 counters to D. C.'s 24. Guilford's victory was even closer, 45 to 43. The fourth game, in which Elon was defeated 30 to 24, was the bright spot in an otherwise disastrous campaign, for it was the first time in recent years that Davidson had won from the Christians on Elon's court.

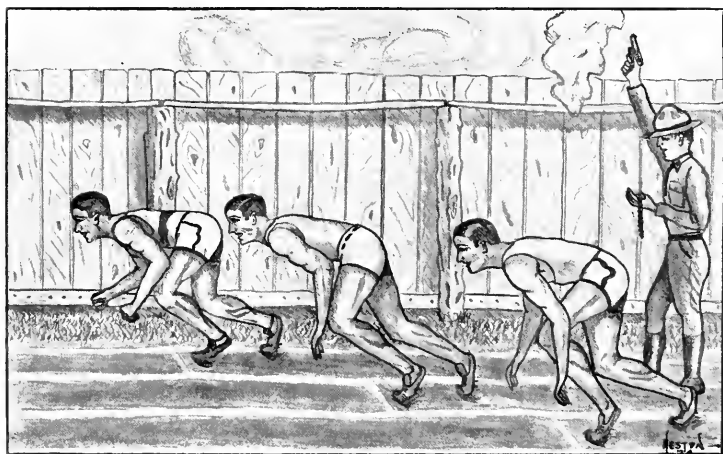

Not to be downed by the frown of Dame Fortune, Coach Grey's warriors met Wake Forest at Davidson and staged a come-back, tasting sweet revenge for the defeat of the previous week. In this case the score was a decisive one, 27 to 17.

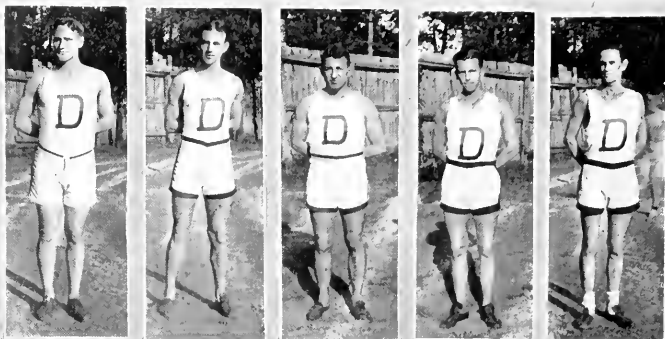

On the home court the Red and Black machine was running smoothly, but down in the Palmetto State a cog slipped somehow and two games were dropped. Clemson won 25 to 18, and Wofford lucked out by the heart-rending score of 32 to 30.

About this time Pat Crawford began to strut his stuff, and Furman was defeated by 39 to 34, and a good finish for the South Carolina trip. But Captain Warhoss Mauze was crippled in the Farman contest and his loss was irreparable to the Wildcats. Guilford carried away the big end of a score of 23 to 15, and Elon defeated the captainless Wildcats 39 to 25.

Though ending somewhat disastrously, the '23 basketball season was not an unsuccessful one. Playing under an unfortunate train of circumstances, the Davidson cage men nevertheless put out a high-grade exhibition of the indoor game, and never failed to show the fighting spirit on which Davidson prides herself.

TRACK

J. I. KNIGHT—D

Captain

Shot Put and Discus

Big Knight was the steady this year when it came to throwing the weights. He was a steady man, always dependable, and on the rare occasions when he didn't win his events, he would at least bring home a couple of seconds. His work won its reward in the State meet. He set a new college discus record at nearly 122 feet.

E. B. McGUKIN—D

Broad Jump

Guke was the mainstay of the team this year on the broad jump. He could be counted on for a point or two in every meet, and when he was feeling good he made his opponents step lively. Mac had the form of a jumper down to perfection and rose gracefully from the take-off preparatory to throwing himself twenty-odd feet through the air.

J. M. McFADDEN—D

Low Hurdles

Rooster surprised everybody, including himself, last year. He decided that starring in football wasn't work enough, so he came out to get some exercise in track. He soon showed, however, that he could clear hurdles without noticing that they were there, and throughout the season he made consistently fast time in his event. It's too bad that Rooster didn't get into track work before his Senior year.

JAMES SPRUNT—D

Manager

Jimmy started out on the mile this year, but a bad leg kept him from running after the V. P. I. meet. Jimmy's injury was a serious loss to the team because with McBryde also out, distance men were scarce. Jimmy made a highly popular manager, and nobody starved while he was at the helm.

W. F. GALLOWAY—D

Captain-Elect

440, 880, Mile

Galloway ran the half and mile during the season and was always good for five or ten points. In the State meet he ran the 440 also and pulled down a third place for the Wildcats. For two years he has been a hard worker and reliable runner, and was elected to lead next year's cinder packers on their hard tour through the Carolinas.

W. M. GRACEY—D

High Hurdles, High Jump; Pole Vault, Javelin

Gracey was the big find in the Freshman class this year. He is one of the most versatile men who has appeared on a Red and Black team in some years, and was used in the field and weight events as well as the high hurdles. Gracey does his work easily and takes on four or five events in an afternoon. The fact that he won first place at the State meet in both the hurdles and the pole vault speaks for the high quality of his work.

A. M. MCBRYDE—D

2 Mile

For the second season McBryde ran the two-mile under the Red and Black banner, and though bothered with a bad side, showed up well during the season. He has a long, easy stride and the stamina required to go the full distance, and has made the Wildcats a valuable man. It is with regret that Davidson loses this under cinder, for his side will keep him off the track in the future.

T. H. KOENIG—D

100, 200, 440

Ted Koenig was the Freshman flash. Lath and supple, with the ideal build for a runner, he moved with the ease of a well-oiled machine. It was a pleasure to see Ted shoot out of his marks with the crack of the gun and come speeding down the track. He ought to be a sensation in track circles before he puts up his spiked shoes for the last time.

D. M. MCCOMBS—D

Javelin

Red McComb completed the trio of Freshmen who won the D in track this Spring. He was an adept in throwing the javelin and was a valuable man for his service in that event. Red was the happiest man on the squad, because he could eat a big meal before his event, while the rest of the team was on starvation rations. At the State meet he had hard luck when, in the last throw of the event, an opponent beat him by a bare inch.

Track Chronicle

ACING a schedule of three of the strongest teams in the South Atlantic region, in addition to the State meet, with but three letter men, seemed to be an almost impossible task for last year's Track team. However, the knights of the cinder circuit went to work with the true Wildcat spirit, and despite the fact that they failed to win, they fought hard and pushed their opponents to the limit.

On the first trip of the season the Red and Black went up against V. P. I., who had the strongest team in the history of the school. The Virginians, due to their superiority in the track events, won the meet 88 to 38. In the field events Davidson showed up better, Big Knight's performance being brilliant. Several college and South Atlantic records were tied during the afternoon.

The next opponent was N. C. State, and again the Wildcats went under, but this time by the much closer score of — to —. As in the Virginia Tech meet, the main strength of the Davidson team was in the field events, Knight and Gracey being the chief point winners. In the sprints the honors were even, but ability to carry off the distance events finally swung the balance in favor of State.

The meet with the University of South Carolina was held on Sprunt Field, and the closest score of the year resulted. The winner was in doubt until the final event, but the Gamecocks managed to get away with a — to — verdict. The Wildcats showed up better than usual on the track, but Waite, the husky Carolina weight man, cut down their usual total in the track events. First place honors were about even, but the Palmetto team captured a majority of the second and third places.

At the State meet, held in connection with the Olympic games in Durham, the Wildcats showed up fairly well and carried off third honors. During the opening events it was a nip and tuck affair and it looked as though the Wildcats would redeem their former defeats. But as the meet drew to a close Carolina and State forged about two points ahead. The entire contest was run during a steady drizzle, that greatly handicapped the men.

Wrestling Team

DAVIDSON students may well be proud of their 1923 Wrestling Team, regardless of the fact that the final scores did not show the supremacy of the Wildcat grapplers over any of the opponents they faced. In spite of the fact that they had no experienced material and were unable to secure the services of a coach, the team worked faithfully and gave all three of their opponents a hard fight before acknowledging defeat. Much valuable experience was gained, and with all but one of this year's team returning, next season should see the Davidson team numbered among the leaders in this section.

The first meet of the season, with Trinity, resulted disastrously for Davidson. Well coached and content to play a purely defensive game, the Methodists were able to win nearly every event. Most of their victories were time advantages rather than falls, however. The meet with Carolina, held the next night, saw a big improvement in the work of the Davidson team. Better tactics were used and the final result was much closer. The feature of this meet was Lindamood's ability to handle Poindexter, Carolina's heavyweight.

It was in the final meet of the year that the team showed their real ability. Facing V. M. I., the undefeated champions of the South, the Wildcat mat team gave the Virginians their hardest battle of the season, losing only after two extra time periods had been required in the final match. All three of the meets this year were held off the Hill, and the support of the student body was sadly missed.

Letters were awarded at the close of the season to Captain Cromartie, Captain-elect Lindamood, Kinsey, and Selser. All of these men except Kinsey will be on hand next year. Captain Lindamood is arranging a schedule which will consist of six or eight meets. The services of a full-time coach have been secured and prospects are bright for a strong team.

D

"Dutch coached the Wildcat nine during the 1922 season, and turned out a team which took the Wake Forest Baptists into camp twice and won the majority of its games. Though not successful in winning the championship, the Wildcats under Coach had the final punch and won many of their games in the final innings by overcoming heavy odds. For the last time Coach Hengeveld has led the Red and Black nine. His whole time now is occupied with his duties in the Administration office of the College, but his final season stands as a fitting climax to his successful coaching career in basketball and baseball. With only two letter men returning, he whipped into shape a team which more than held its own against the colleges of the Carolinas, and it is with deep regret that Davidson followers give him up as coach. Here's to Coach Dutch, a true gentleman and friend, and a coach who exemplifies all that is best in Davidson athletics.

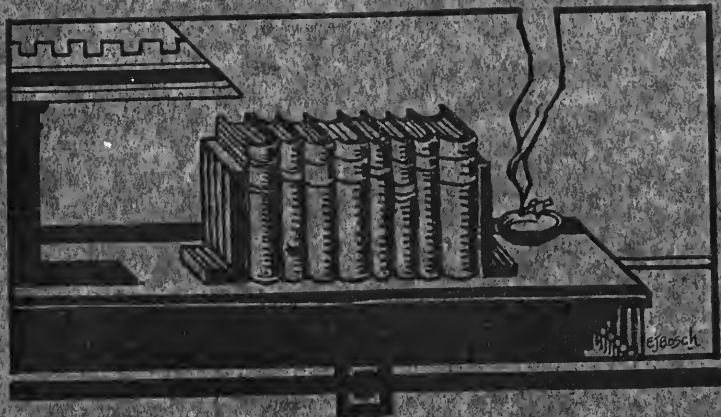

H. M. GREY

Football, Basketball, and Track

D

For three seasons "Woody" has been the mentor of the Red and Black football and track teams, and during the past year he coached the Wildcats on the hardwood floor as well. As Athletic Director Coach has done much to build up Davidson athletics, and due to his untiring efforts athletics have been placed on a much firmer footing at Davidson. Although the past year has not been victorious, athletically speaking, the teams have always had the Wildcat habit of fighting to the last whistle, and in individual contests have made some wonderful showings. Coach perfected his team against V. P. I. and instilled the fighting spirit into the men, which sent the Virginians away, disheartened. Although the Track team of 1922 did not win a single meet, Coach trained them to the utmost, and the Wildcats made a great showing at the State meet.

After three years of the most untiring service, Coach leaves the world of sport to enter business, but his name will long be remembered. During his regime the Wildcats defeated Carolina on the gridiron, a feat accomplished only three times in the past twenty-five years. The best wishes of the Wildcat tribe follow Coach Grey in his chosen field.

Ideals

What is there in the vivid crowded pages
 Of college days more glorious than this :
 A band of brothers, steadfast through the ages—
 Friends in distress, companions, too, in bliss?
 No storm shall raze this structure to the earth,
 No inner canker sear this lovely flower,
 No rising sorrow drown the careless mirth
 Of friends here gathered in this joyous hour.
 For we have builded this fraternal home
 On ground more stable than the shifting sands ;
 Stronger by far than once-resplendant Rome,
 Imperious on her hills, our friendship stands,
 And when the last lone Dawn breaks on the sea
 That star shall glimmer on eternally !

The Dramatic Club

A SURVEY of the work of the Dramatic Club to date indicates a rapid and continuous growth, and also reveals that the last year has been one of great activity and brilliant success. The Dramatic Club was organized in the Fall of 1920, under the direction of Prof. E. J. Erwin, with Fred Thompson as the first president. This was Professor Erwin's first year on the Faculty, and he was responsible for the organization to develop the dramatic talent of the college. The initial effort consisted in the "Wildcat Minstrel," given at Senior Speaking in November. The success of this was an encouragement toward further undertakings, so at Junior Speaking the following March three one-act plays were given, which proved that Davidson had some real actors. E. A. Nash was elected president of the club for the season of 1921-22, and the year's work was started off with a minstrel show at Senior Speaking. At Junior Speaking the club presented "The Boon," by Tchekov, and "The Zone Police," and "Miss Civilization," by Richard Harding Davis. Two more one-act plays, "A Night at an Inn," by Lord Dunsany, and "The Monkey's Paw," by W. W. Jacobs and L. M. Parker, were given at Commencement. E. T. Woolfolk was chosen president for the next year.

At the "get-together meeting" early in the next Fall "The Veterans," a one-act play by Professor Erwin, was staged privately. A progressive step was made in the departure from the stereotyped form of minstrel show, something more original, something that required more dramatic art and at the same time provided a more varied form of entertainment. This was the "Sultan of Sarawak," or "The Wildcat Minstrels Abroad," which was given at Senior Speaking. This play, which was written by Professor Erwin, was in four scenes, the first scene opening with the Minstrels on a Pullman car bound for New York, from whence they are to sail on a worldwide tour. In Scene II, the unfortunate Minstrels are being tossed about unmercifully in a lifeboat off the Saxonaphonia, for the good ship had gone down in the South Seas three days hence. Between flashes of lightning and peals of thunder could be heard the doleful expressions of consternation and dread of the seemingly ill-fated troupe. The storm was too severe for the frail craft, and the curtain fell just as the boat capsized. Scene III was on a Cannibal island, where in the midst of much revelling and rejoicing over their deliverance from their recent peril, they are suddenly pounced upon by some giant cannibals. From this most critical situation they are finally rescued in the nick of time only by the mysterious "Voodoo" work of Tarzan, the half-ape acrobat of the troupe. The cannibals then conduct the Minstrels to the Court of the Sultan of Sarawak, where, in Scene IV they present their program.

After the Christmas Holidays, a second performance of "The Sultan of Sarawak" was given upon the urgent request of the Student Body. As this show had been such a success here, the club decided to take it on a trip, so Manager R. C. Aiken immediately arranged a journey for the middle of February. This trip included, in its itinerary Spartanburg, Gastonia, Greenville, and Charlotte. Thirty men made the trip, including Professor Erwin, who so ably directed the performance. It was necessary to take a large amount of scenery, but the men proved themselves as good stage hands as actors, and each town they quickly erected a palace for the Sultan. The trip was a success in every way, and another is already being planned for next year.

Another progressive step was made at Junior Speaking, when the club presented three one-act plays written by three of their own number. "I Do," by E. T. Woolfolk, was a comedy with a triangular plot. The various parts were well cast and the humorous situation, so well created by the author, was excellently portrayed. "The Christian Slave," by H. K. Russell, was a tragedy, the scene of which was laid in a Mohammedan court. Pathos there was, but the plot dealt principally with the treachery of those Easterners. The climax, a double assassination, was well worked out and, although tragedy is very difficult to enact, the cast succeeded well in portraying their parts. "Uncle Tommy's Harem," by W. F. Galloway, was a farce-comedy of the "College Boy" type. The scene was laid on any college campus, while the leading role was that of a typical professor of classical languages.

Two more plays by local playwrights will be presented during Commencement, and will conclude the most successful year of this short but attractive history of the organization. "At the Sign of the Sturgeons' Head," by W. J. Cooper, and "The Veterans," by Professor Erwin, will be staged on Monday night of Commencement week. The plots in these two plays are excellent, the latter being exceedingly good as a character study.

As the close of the year draws near, the thoughts of the members not graduating are turned to plans for the next season. Ted Jones has been elected president, and it is understood that Professor Erwin has something new up his sleeve for next season. Too much credit cannot be given him as the able and untiring director of all the work of the Dramatic Club. Prof. R. H. Wagner has also assisted in directing some of the work, having had considerable previous experience.

Intercollegiate Debating Chronicle

DAVIDSON'S forensic artists had two battles during the year 1922-23, losing the first to Washington and Lee by a count of three to nothing, but retrieving the loss by getting a like decision over Trinity. These two debates make the present record of Davidson in Intercollegiate Debating, nineteen won and nine lost, out of twenty-eight contests.

On December 16th, Dunbar H. Ogden, Jr., and W. Arnett Gamble, Jr., met Messrs. C. W. Lowry and F. B. Waters, of Washington and Lee, in Lee Chapel, at Lexington, Va., for the first contest of the college year. The Davidson men upheld the affirmative of "Resolved, That the United States should cancel the loans made to her European Allies since April 6, 1917."

Dunbar Ogden opened the debate by maintaining that the loans should be cancelled for the reason that the Allies cannot pay and that it would be economically disastrous for the United States to accept payment were the Allies in position to pay. Arnett Gamble presented the two additional points that the United States should not ask for repayment of the loans because they were used in a common cause and because cancellation of the loans would promote world peace.

Mr. Lowry for the negative maintained that Europe is not in the condition pictured by the affirmative and that she could and should pay her just debts; also that the United States could receive payment without resultant harm to her industrial life. Mr. Waters appealed for a settlement without cancellation and its alleged tendency towards the repudiation of all international obligations.

The Washington and Lee men were generous in their praise of the fight made by the Red and Black representatives. Benton Wharton as alternate and manager of the team handled his part in fine style and got some experience which will doubtless stand him in good stead in the contests of other years.

On the evening of April 27th, in Shearer Hall, a three-man team from Trinity tried their powers of reasoning and persuasion with a like team of Wildcats. The question under discussion was "Resolved, That the issuance of tax-exempt securities should be forbidden by an amendment to the Federal Constitution," with Davidson on the negative. Messrs. H. C. Sprinkle, L. B. Hollowell, and E. B. Fisher composed the visiting team, while Liston D. Elkins, Albert M. Hillhouse, and Warren M. Cox opposed them, with J. W. Baldwin, local alternate and manager, serving as timekeeper for both sides, by agreement.

The Trinity team argued, first, that present conditions, as shown in the different policies toward different kinds of property, make the proposed amendment necessary. Their second speaker maintained that the existing plan does not furnish an equitable handling of taxes as between rich and poor. The third speaker undertook to show how the proposed plan of the affirmative would be equitable and feasible.

Liston Elkins opened for the negative, showing that the proposed plan is unnecessary and undesirable. Albert Hillhouse followed with argument to show that the plan would work a serious injury to the Federal Government by increasing its outlay for interest on bonds and by militating against its borrowing power. Warren Cox closed by showing how, in the opinion of the negative, the proposal would injure the state and local government and cause a halt in industrial progress and the development of public enterprises. The Davidson men were particularly strong on the rejoinder and, altogether, succeeded in creating in the minds of the judges a substantial doubt as to the wisdom of the plan proposed by the gentlemen from Trinity. The Methodists showed themselves good sports and hastened to congratulate their conquerors. The debate was lively and interesting and both sides acquitted themselves well. It was a pleasure to have them on the Hill and the students will welcome them if they return at any future time.

With the fifty cents a year to be paid by each student through the blanket fee and with Professor Wagner to coach the teams and promote forensics here, the prospects seem to be brighter than ever before for some great debates by the wearers of the Red and Black.

CHAMPS GO TO 2ND PLACE AS RAIN HALTS GAME

Big Horshee tournament Ends in a Blaze of Glory as Whiteside Throws

Jaybirdsville—First of the Month.

In a snappy game here this afternoon, the fast aggregation from Ninety-Six was completely swamped by the superior teamwork of the heavy Pittsburgh eleven.

The fray was witnessed by an immense audience. Four persons crowded into the gym to see the famous Mooresville quint in action. The meet was exciting thruout. Anticipating local disorders, Cop Johnson detailed one battalion of R. O. T. C. troops to guard the door at the southeast corner of the room. A few minor brushes took place between the local troopers and bands of rowdy students, but when two or three large field pieces were swung into place, the rioting soon subsided.

The hall was beautifully decorated with bunting and posies.

The contest was hard fought thruout and at the end of the first set the score had piled up to 31 to nothing in favor of the winning team, and at times the game became so close that it was necessary to open the windows.

The strongest player was on the opposition—Speedy Crow—the outstanding star of the game. He kicked two

THE KNIGHT OF THE BATH

Some are born bathers, some acquire baths, and others have bathing forced upon them. The last was the fate of one of the noble sophis-morons of this, our beloved institution. It fell on this wise:

From the front of West dormitory much water fell. It fell not upon the ground but upon certain zealous students of the same institution. The tempers of these students were like unto quick lime for water did make them sizzle and stirred them up to revenge. Now these men set themselves to catch the applier of the said liquid. So they bestirred themselves to discover from whence it came. The enemy had strongly entrenched himself upon the fourth floor and cast mighty floods upon all and sundry. But this very impartiality was his ruin. For he did sprinkle, nay drench, mighty men, to wit, Red, the son of McComb, "Mac" Maclaren, and sundry others. These hid themselves unto the fourth floor with what speed they might. There they caught one Jack, son of Austin, in the very act of casting acqua pura upon Lewis whose By-name is Goat.

Then the noise of strife was abroad in the land. And many harsh words hurled themselves along the resounding halls of building dedicated to the training of our youth in all the virtues of peace and sobriety, but now so foully desecrated.

field goals out of 12 trials and walked four times. For the locals Shorty Howell was the most consistent player. Howls of applause went up from both sides when he dubbed his drive and landed in the creek opposite the third hole. "Piggy" Martin, a local boy also showed up well.

At the beginning of the second frame both nines trotted out on the field with looks of dogged determination on their mugs. Dr. Chey swung with a vicious left hook for the jaw, and Joiner staggered against the ropes. But Weeks decided to walk Walker, who was the next man up. Montgomery misjudged his punt and scouted both ends for a touch-down. In vain the Maroon ends tried to stop him. He crouched over the handle-bars and pedalled like mad and amid the shouts and jeers of the 30,000 witnesses and witnessesses, he crossed the plate for the fourth time, and thus tied the score. The Missouri youth declared after the battle that he would next challenge Jack Dempsey and Dr. Cone.

But the strife both of words and blows soon came to an end. Then did these "Noble Avengers" speak in accents of feigned subservience? "Sir, your bawth is ready." His not to reason why. A COUPLE OF PAGES FROM THE DIARY OF A DAVIDSON SAMUEL PEPYS

October 14, 1922.

Awake much sooner than I like, because of the Freshman, who was in high dudgeon over the trip to the Queen City for the game with the much touted Wake Forest.

So to a bite of breakfast and three classes, for 'twas Saturday and my difficult day. Did doze on the third class, but was rudely awakened by a classmate, who informed me that it was time for the special to leave. Dined at Jew's, and thence to the train, there to wait an impatient thirty minutes. The clamorous arrival of the engine was welcome, which jerked us off to Charlotte, in a great flurry, where we did parade gloriously from one end of the town to the other with much tooting of horns and cheering. Loafed a while, and thence to the football field to see our eleven tromple and be trompled on, midst more clash of cymbals and noise making. Did quarrel with a rude bully who informed me that our chances for winning were withal as good as those of a blonde young man who has taken his girl to a Rodolph Valentin Movie.

Back to town after the disappointment, and supped with Jack Austin at the Mexican Weinie stand, who chatted long on many things. Found that they were having "Manslaughter" at one of the play-houses, and decided to take the Freshman to keep him out of mischief, who did decline, saying that a thing with such a name must have a bevy of women connected with it. So he to the Keith Vandeville, and I to the pictures, which was withal a flickering masterpiece on the long, swinging rhythm that is life.

So to the train and "back to the mines"—nor was my choler lessened by

THE BALLAD OF "BEVO" AND HOW HE BIT THE DUST

'Twas in the morning early
The dew-drops glistened pearly
From the rays of the sun
When our young hero was seen
Coming across the green
Somewhat on the run.

Now he did on a table wait
And forsooth he was a little late
As over the ground he sped
So onward he did dash
With thoughts of grits and hash
Twirling in his head.

Now to his consternation
There appeared an excavation
The ground was slippery clay
According to recollection
His head went one direction
And his feet another way.

Bevo bit the dust
Did we say he cussed?
That isn't the expression for it
Since no one was in sight
To witness his sad plight
Nothing there was to bar it.

Out of the ditch he climbed
With knees and hands begrimed
And face a coat of tan
Said he, "This time is the last
That I will run so fast
I'm a somewhat wiser man."

the sore disappointment of the game, nor the thought of the absent Mazuma I had managed to dispose of.

Feb. 23, 1923.

Laid late, because I did study the night before till the small hours on the review I have this date. Aroused by the chapel bell and did journey down in great haste in order to miss getting my sixth absence. No breakfast which I greatly deplored. Learned in English that Poe was paid only $10 for the Raven, which methinks is ten times more than it is worth. After all my study did get badly shot on review and was in bad spirits for next thirty minutes.

After a healthy dinner, did sojourn in the library for an hour and thirty minutes, reading the home paper, also a late book by one John Simpson entitled,
"Zero's and Zero Worship." Truly a masterpiece showing the author's knowledge on the subject. Saw a book there entitled, "Wild Animal Crackers I have Et," by R. Thompson Seton. 'Twas a late book, therefore I did not read it. On emerging from the library, engage in a game of horseshoes with "Awful B." Arbuthnot, who on account of superior training and the continual inspection and study of the technique of masters of the art such as Jack Bell, Johnny McCallum and Geo. Hodgins, did overwhelm me with a couple of ringers.
Hastened to meet the 2:58 and found
"Dope" Matheson on the job as usual.
Dope is a steady at meeting the trains as Speedy Carr is at playing "Hot Lips" on that instrument of torture—his victrola—each evening at the witching hour of 9. Did linger at the P O till all the hopes for a letter were abolished. 'Tis such a pleasure to see Frank Wildman

RULES WHICH WE HUMBLY ASK OUR NUMEROUS PROTEGEEES TO OBSERVE

1. If you must shave, bathe, comb or sta-comb your hair in our irresistible domicile, never think of bringing your own razor, soap or brush. We buy these commodities merely for appearance's sake, and never want to use them ourselves. If we happen to have any hair grease, face lotion, etc., help yourself. It grows free on all trees.

2. Feel perfectly free to use our musical instruments, and borrow our music. Musical instruments are issued daily at drug stores, and we love to have you practice on ours. Our music was bought for the benefit of the student body, and if we can't find it when we want it, we are perfectly happy.

3. If we are asleep, make all noise possible. We delight in giving pleasure to others, and if you find it pleasant to wake us up, we are in our paradise.

4. The pictures on the wall were put there temporarily only, and if you see any of them that strike your fancy, help yourself. We like to have our judgment confirmed.

get his five letters a day (including the sporting page) even if I cannot manage to capture one myself.

Evening, and to a picture where I did sit under the balcony, thus being the victim of a gourmand peanut eater who rained down hulls and dirt upon my cranium.

A bite at Minnie's and so to bed.

5. Always borrow our books, preferably on the nights before reviews. We pass our reviews by psycho-analysis and never use books.

6. We paid cold cash for our Big Ben, but time makes no difference to us and the alarm won't wake us up anyway, so borrow it any time and be in no hurry to return it. We have a watch anyway.

7. We hate tobacco in all forms. Therefore if you see any P. A. or cigarettes, take them out as quickly as possible. They are in here by mistake.

Respectfully submitted,

Prof.: What are the intricacies of interest?

Blank: Ah—I don't quite understand the question—will you please state it again sir?

Professor (patiently): What are the intricacies of interest?

Blank: Oh, you mean interest on money?

Prof.: Yes.

Blank: I see. The factors of interest.

Prof.: Yes, that's it, go on.

Blank: Ah, er- interest is- er- uh- ah-

Prof.: Yes?

Blank: Doctor, I don't believe I know.

Prof.: Well, now, Mr. Blank, what excuse have you for your limited knowledge this morning.

Blank: Ah- er- the fact is Doctor—
Bell rings—

Prof.: Save that for next time, Mr. Blank.

Blank sighs and hastens to make his exit.

THE BOOK SHELF

Our Very Own Reviewer Gives a Few of his views on the Latest Attempts

Table Manners for the College Man—By P. Harvey Biddle. This useful work should be in every college room. It is a remarkable treatment of the subject by a truly gifted author. Here are a few quotations at random:

"Be there first. First come, first served is a good rule. One should insist upon its enforcement.

"Don't give up too quickly. You may often get a whole plate of hot biscuit by waiting.

"Get your extras out of the ladies' share; if they are real ladies they won't raise a row.

"Set things down where you can reach them. Let the other fellow do the passing."

Practical Stage Carpentry—By O. J. Allison and John Bryan, with an able introduction by "Windy" Aiken. This work is not complete yet because the hands of the authors have not yet recovered from the heavy work on the minstrel trip. However, it promises to be an authoritative work on the subject.

The Human Fly and How to Be One—By Crocodile. This is an intense, vivid, and gripping story of some of the secrets of the life of the "Human Fly." The author sticks resolutely to his nomme de plume and refuses to let his real name appear. There is a rumor afloat that Hippo the Houek could give us light upon the matter if he would.

My Term in the Band—By W. P. Brown. This book has created a sensation in musical circles. It is at the same time an expression of the author's great love for the best and the noblest in music, and a stern arraignment of modern day slipshod-methods in band organization and practice. The old jealousy of bass and lead shows itself when the author complains that smooth swelling notes of his mighty tuba were often drowned out by the speaking clatter of an amateur cornetist in league with a would-be drummer. But he has his revenge when he sets the audience wild with his famous solo theme: "The Bull in the Barnyard."

One cannot escape a feeling of deep pity that one who had such a love for real music, should have been forced to remain in such company for a whole term, when so much of it was torture for him. But we can but admire his truly unselfish motives when he declared that he would be willing, yes, even glad, to sacrifice his time for another year if it would help the band. In his concluding sentence Mr. Brown states, "My only regret is that I cannot as yet see any effects of all my toil, but I have faith to believe that a better day is coming for the Davidson R. O. T. C. Band, and in its future greatness I trust that I shall not go unremembered, but that my name shall go down to posterity as the first man to use a derby hat for a mite in a tuba."

"You have more than justified the faith of those of us who cast our lot with you in the early days."---J. W. Cannon, Cotton Manufacturer, Concord, N. C.

"I consider this insurance company one of the most reliable in the country--and I am sure there is none anywhere better managed."---Andrew J. Bethea, former Lieutenant-Governor of South Carolina.

"I am much pleased with your dividends and company management generally."---Clyde R. Hocy, former Assistant U. S. District Attorney, Shelby, N. C.

"The three requisites for a life insurance company are honesty, intelligence and enterprise. It was the possession of these qualities that led me to insure in the Southern Life and Trust Company."---C. Alphonso Smith, Professor of English, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

"I regard the company as eminently safe and worthy of absolute confidence."---A. S. Byrd, President Chisora College for Women, Columbia, S. C.

"I am more and more pleased with the policy as I compare it with those of other companies."---J. B. Hubbell, Professor in Wake Forest College.

"Papa, didn't you whip me once for biting little Tommy?"

"Yes, my dear, you hurt him very much."

"Well, then, Papa, you ought to whip sister's music teacher, too; he bit sister yesterday afternoon right on the mouth, and I know it hurt her, because she put her arms around his neck and tried to choke him."

Columbia Theological Seminary

Columbia, South Carolina

John W. Wells, President

COLUMBIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, with its continued existence since 1828, was never better prepared to give an adequate training to young men seeking the Gospel Ministry. While it is rich in the traditions of the past of the Southern Presbyterian Church, it is alive to all of the present-day problems which confront the modern preacher. To those who desire to serve their own section of the United States, and do their part in evangelizing the waste places in our own beloved Southland, will find Columbia Seminary the appropriate place to be trained. Beginning with a constituency in 1828 with about six thousand communicants in a sparsely settled population throughout the States to the Southwest, it now has a constituency in its controlling Synods alone of one hundred thousand communicants, with literally hundreds of thousands of white people connected with no evangelical church. This section is rapidly growing in commercial and social importance, and the demand for well-trained, zealous young men is far greater than the supply.

Columbia is admirably adapted for student supply work and long before he finishes his course he has become acquainted with a great deal of the territory.

Columbia Seminary furnishes every reasonable comfort, as well as affording financial assistance to deserving students.

What Ministers Say About Louisville Seminary

Dr. William Crowe, Mo., says—

"The Theological Seminary at Louisville was born in the faith of our fathers. The names of Witherspoon, Hemphill, Hawes, et al., are redolent of those heroic days.

The Seminary has proven itself worthy of such sacrifice. Ministers from every part of the world today could testify to the fidelity of their alma mater, and to their love for her.

Dr. D. Clay Lilly, Ky., says—

"The Seminary, at Louisville strengthened with new resources and encouraged by the greatly increased attendance, is entering on a new era of prosperity and fruitfulness. It is a great institution, with a fine record back of it and an ever enlarging usefulness ahead of it."

Dr. A. S. Allen, Tenn., says—

"Louisville is the logical center for a Theological Seminary for our Church. I would like to see all our Theological schools east of the Mississippi consolidated in one great school at Louisville."

Dr. Chas. P. Foreman, Mo., says—

"I have always felt the keenest interest in the development of the Louisville Seminary and confidently look forward to the time when it will take the lead in our country. I fully expect it to become the Princeton of the West."

Rev. G. F. Bell, N. C., says—

"The seminary at Louisville is not only dear to the hearts of all her alumni but also of inestimable value in serving the needs of the great central section of our Church. It has always emphasized the practical as well as the doctrinal and has sent into the field at home and abroad a fine body of trained servants of the king."

Dr. William Ray Dohyans, Ala., says—

"Of all the theological institutions in America I sincerely believe that the Louisville Seminary is the best equipped for the sort of education that the times demand. As to the faculty, I challenge comparison with any similar institution anywhere. The men are experts in their departments, practical in their knowledge and instruction, and eminent in their service to the cause of Christ. The recent addition of the Department of Church Efficiency sets the Seminary a little forward aftront in the theological column."

Nothing Cheap About Him

A young man not very familiar with city life, in company of his best girl, visited an ice cream parlor. Upon being asked what she would have, the young lady replied, "give me a banana split."

Young Man: "Say, waiter, bring her a whole one. I have the money alright."

Bess: "Somebody passed a counterfeit dime on Bob a year ago and he hasn't been able to get rid of it since."

Maiden Aunt (horrified): "What! does he never go to church, then?"

The night was dark,
The stars were dim;
She kissed the man;
She thought was him—
He weren't.

Young Man, A Dollar Saved Is A Dollar Made

THE best way for a young man to save and at the same time to protect his biggest asset—his life—is to take out a life insurance policy in a good safe company. The Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York has behind it sixty years of success. It sells all kinds of up-to-date policies, twenty payment life, endowment, convertible. These policies give the most complete protection. They contain the Total Disability and Double Indemnity features. The cash and loan values are large and the Society has all kinds of ways to help the policy holder to keep his insurance in force.

Designing & Printing College Annuals

MAINTAINING an organization of men who take great pride in their work, and equipment that is selected with a view to the quality it will produce, we are especially fitted to execute the very best of high class printing.

We are not concerned with producing just printing but we are concerned with producing good printing in all of its several phases ---typography, press work and binding.

Under the supervision of an experienced artist, we operate a Commercial Art Department where your thoughts can be expressed in pictures that are more forceful than words alone.
